Armor-Led U. S. Troops Drive Ahead In N. Korea

New Advance Is Reported Today In North Korea

Offensive Front Is Now Widened To About Forty Miles

By LEE FERRERO
(I. N. S. War Correspondent)

TOKYO, April 5.—Armorled American troops rammed eight miles inside North Korea on the west front today and surged more than a mile north of Parallel 38 in the central sector in a broadening drive to balk a threatened Red offensive.

One Yank column, pacing a mighty United Nations assault, smashed forward to the vicinity oft he North Korean town of Chailli, eight miles above the parallel dividing line and 38 miles northeast of Seoul.

The Eighth Army said Thursday night this tank-infantry task force encountered only "light" resistance. But in other parts of the west sector heavier enemy opposition was met as the UN forces carved out a 17-mile assault line inside Communist-dominated North Korea.

Widens to 40 Miles

The UN offensive, striking at a vast Red buildup, was widened to about 40 miles Thursday when Al-

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Although remedial measures have been taken and much amesite used, the highway on Route 18 south of the city near the Piedmon farm is dropping two to three inches a day, Alfred A. Martin, county highway superintendent, reported. The road was originally down 22 inches and was brought up to level, but again the road is dropping. The area is posted to prevent accidents.

Very little of the large red cross on the sign posted on the Diamond for the Red Cross campaign needs to be filled in now as the annual drive nears a climax. As each report period was held, sign painters would apply more red paint to the sign filling in the outline of the cross.

Lime spreading seems to be the order of the day on many lawns about the city. Residents are striving to get their bady abused lawns back into condition before the season gets too far along, although the weather for such work has not been too conducive. Promise of more favorable weather has been given.

Although Memorial Day is over seven week away, local cemetery associations are either at work or making plans for the cleaning up of various county cemeteries in readiness for the day when many hundreds visit the burial places to bring flowers for graves of loved ones. Many of the cemeteries will need considerable work due to the ravages of the past winter weather upon them.

Early visitors to Gaston and Cascade Parks these mornings are finding that nature is really getting awake. Calls of the wild birds visiting these spots are numerous with many species being detected by those with sharp ears and eyes. Plant life is getting ready to put forth its spring display which annually is admired by hundreds of nature lovers.

Put Retail Price Controls On Thousands Of Items

By FREEMAN FULBRIGHT
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The Office of Price Stabilization put retail price controls today on thousands of items affecting everyday life in the United States.

The controls were of the markup type, limiting the amount of profit that can be taken by retailers.

OPS said the public annually spends some seven billion dollars for the items which include housewares, glassware, sporting goods, radio and television sets, phonographs and records, luggage, notions, watches and clocks, jewelry, silverware and chinaware, and musical instruments.

In size, the goods range from hair pins to electric organs.

An additional 76,000 retailers are affected by the action, which is an amendment to the big clothing and home furnishings regulation issued last Feb. 27. More than 200,000 merchants were covered by that order.

The amendment also permits retailers to pass on to their customers increases in ceiling prices which OPS has allowed manufacturers and wholesalers.

The goods are taken out from under the general price freeze of last Jan. 26.

Today's amendment requires retailers to make out a chart showing the cost of an item, the selling price, and his markup (what he added to cost to cover expenses and make a profit) as of March 31.

Truman Meets Labor Leaders

Mobilization Program Being Discussed

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—President Truman will discuss with the nation's labor leaders today the question of labor participation in the mobilization program.

The united labor policy committee will call at the White House for a conference with the president at 3:30 p. m. (EST).

The committee met behind closed doors at 2 p. m. to decide what action it will take in its White House conference on wage stabilization and a number of other questions, including manpower, price and rent control and taxation.

President Auriol Of France Making Visit To Canada

OTTAWA, April 5.—(INS)—French President Vincent Auriol arrived before noon today in Ottawa, capital city of Canada, aboard a special train from New York.

President Auriol made his farewells late last night to New York and the United States at the conclusion of a state visit with President Truman and other American officials.

Ottawa was decked out in flags to welcome the president and Mrs. Auriol on the occasion of the first visit to Canada by the head of the French republic.

President Auriol will spend five days in Canada in a continual round of official engagements.

28th Division Troops May Be Sent To Europe

President Says More Troops To Be Sent To Europe In Few Months

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—The Army department indicated today that Pennsylvania's 28th Infantry Division will be one of two national guard units dispatched to Europe shortly under the troops for Europe issue.

The announcement from the Army department came as President Truman praised the Senate's approval of plans to send four U.S. divisions to Europe.

By WILLIAM THEIS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 5.—President Truman today praised the Senate's aproval of plans to send four U. S. divisions to Europe and the Army said preparations to dispatch the troops are going ahead rapidly.

To Leave for Europe Soon

The President said in a statement at his news conference that he regarded the Senate's troops resolutions as reaffirming basic U. S. foreign policy and as a "clear endorsement" on the appointment of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as Atlantic Pact commander.

The Army said the first troops will leave for Europe soon after the issue is definitely settled in Congress, which still has a second resolution requiring House action.

It is expected the first units to be alerted for movement to Europe will be the Second Armored Division at Fort Hood, Tex., and the Fourth Infantry Division at Fort Benning, Ga.

Two national guard outfits will follow the regular army divisions to Europe. They are expected to be the 34rd guard division from Connecticut, Rhode Island and Vermont, and the 28th guard division from Pennsylvania.

The 43rd and 28th divisions went into training last September at Camp Pickett, Va., and Camp Atterbury, Ind., and are the only guard divisions available for duty in Europe in the next four months.

LOSES HIS APPEAL

PITTSBURGH, April 5.—(INS)—Dominic Daversa, doomed Greensberg, Pa., wife killer, today lost his latest chance to beat the electric chair.

In a brief handed down today in Pittsburgh, the State Supreme Court denied Daversa's appeal for a new trial.

The 35-year-old slayer is scheduled to die in the electric chair at Rockview penitentiary Monday.

Over 700 Lions And Guests At Meeting Here

District Governor's Dinner Meeting Is Held At Cathedral

Over 700 members and their ladies of 40 District 14-F Lions clubs—including clubs in Western Pennsylvania from Erie through the Beaver Valley—gathered at the Cathedral, Wednesday evening, for the annual District Governor's meeting.

Chief speaker on the evening's program was Harry A. Newman, past president of Lions International, from Ontario, Canada. Mr. Newman discussed corruption in government and the threat of Commuism in his country and ours.

He declared that we must start in the homes to eradicate these forces of evil. He declared that it isn't our youth but our adults that pose a problem, for it is the adults tnat train our youth.

The past president of the international organization went on to say that we must set higher moral stadards at home in order to make the sacrifices of our boys in Korea worth while.

He added that Americans and Canadians have a great responsibility to the world today and that it is our business to save those persons and nations that do not have the resources that we do.

Rashid Chairman

Samuel J. Rashid, past president of the New Castle club, presided over the meeting. After the group sang "America" he called upon Rev. Harry A. Silvis, first past president of the Volant club, to give the invocation.

Presentation of Colors by the New Castle club, assisted by members of Boy Scout Troop No. 5 and Senior Girl Scouts, Pledge of Allegiance to the flag, group singing of The Star Spangled Banner and a 30 second pause for prayer for our forces in Korea followed.

Singing before, during and after the dinner was led by Leonard Nicholas, and was accompanied by E. E. Branstetter on the organ. Lion tamers from other district

State Income Tax Plan Loses In First Vote

Sponsors Still Hope To Revive And Pass Measure In House

By ED HAUCK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, April 5.—Gov. John S. Fine and his legislative foremen today are trying to corral maverick House Republicans for another attempt to shove the harried income tax bill into the Senate.

Administration leaders, nettled by the unexepected defeat of the levy designed to raise 119 of the 163 million dollars in new revenue, believe passage of the measure is still possible.

Reconsideration Door Open

A parlimentary maneuver opend the door to reconsideration no later than April 12 of the one half of one per cent income levy which was turned down officially 98-108 in the face of optimistic predictions by GOP captains.

Nineteen dissident Republicans, mostly from eastern counties, ganged up with the solid 86-member Democratic bloc to slam down Fine's first major test in the legislature.

However, Fine, Majority Leader Charles C. Smith and Speaker Herbert P. Sorg issued statements hinting that the income tax will be revived.

"On reflection," Fine said, "the House may yet recognize the administration proposal as the best possible tax program. Otherwise,

Trail Of Three Missing Girls Is Followed

Hunt Centers In Indianapolis Area For Pittsburgh Girls

PITTSBURGH, April 5.—(INS)—A nearby Mt. Lebanon police lieutenant followed the trail of three runaway young girls to Indianapolis today, and he said he wants to find out why Indianapolis police haven't had anything about the search on their teletype.

In Pittsburgh, the father of two of the runaways, 14-year-old Louise and 12-year-old Josephine Kelley, appealed to them "to telephone us collect, and we will take you home."

The third runaway is Olive Christman, 15, a school chum of the Kelleys.

Lt. James W. Potts Jr., has been on the girls' trail since they left their Mt. Lebanon home last Saturday night. Early Sunday they wrecked the Kelley family car in Columbus, O., but were not held by police.

Schoolmates said the three girls often talked of going "to Hollywood to write movie scenarios." The girls, in a note to their parents, explained they wanted to "see the world" because "by the time we get out of school, we will be dead because we think there will be a war."

PITTSBURGH—Olive Christman, Louise Kelley and Judy Kelley (left to right), three missing Mt. Lebanon teen agers who took the family car Sunday for a trip to see the world before it was too late, wrecked the car in Columbus, Ohio, on Monday but the girls were gone again. It is believed that they had bought tickets to St. Louis.

Mrs. Roy A. Long Is Chosen First Lady By Beta Sigma Phi

MRS. ROY A. LONG

Continuing in their annual tradition of honoring the "outstanding woman of the year" in New Castle for her accomplishments in community activity, members of the Pennsylvania Epsilon Gamma chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, along with secret nominators who made the selections, elected Mrs. Roy A. Long "First Lady of the Year" at the sorority meeting held Wednesday evening in the Y.W.C.A. lounge.

During an interview with Mrs. Log and her husband at their home, 516 Neshannock boulevard, after the meeting, the gracious "first lady" expressed delight and surprise to Mrs. Donald F. Copson, president of Beta Sigma Phi, the News photographer, and News reporter, at being given the disction, saying that she thought the honor was wonderful, but that she couldn't have fulfilled her accomplishments without the understanding co-operation of her family, friends, and those with whom she has worked all these years.

To Be Given Award

In Mrs. Long's honor, a reception-tea will be held Wednesday evening, April 25, at 8:30 o'clock in the Cathedral, at which time she will publicly be presented

Rotation Plan For Troops In Korea To Go Into Effect

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—Army Secretary Pace announced today that a rotation plan for bringing home Army combat troops in Korea will be placed into effect "about the middle of this month."

The rotation will be built up until it reaches 20,000 men per month. The first small contingent involved in the rotatio plan will sail about April 15.

The Marine Corps already has a rotation plan for its fighting forces in Korea and several thousand Marines have been brought back to the U. S. under the program.

Blockade Of All Red China Is Suggested

LONDON, April 5—(INS)—General Douglas MacArthur was reported today by the London Daily Telegraph to have suggested a blockade of all of communist China to reduce its military strength to impotence.

The general's views, including a prediction of another Chinese offensive in Korea in May, were reported by the newspaper's military correspondent in Tokyo following an interview with the United Nations commander.

The correspondent, who did not quote MacArthur directly, said the general had told him U. N. forces in Korea have been restricted by a web of artificial conditions.

He was said to have declared that for the first time in his long military career he found himself without a definite objective.

The general was said to have declared further that it is time that western politicians faced up to realities and that if they took the "wraps off" the U. N. could defeat the communists easily.

WOULD CHANGE STOP SIGNS

HARRISBURG, April 5.—(INS)—Road signs labeled "through traffic stop" would be things of the past after June 1, 1952, if assemblyman Walter L. Bomberger has his way in the legislature.

The Lancaster Republican has introduced a bill in the house to authorize use only of signs emblazoned "stop" after that date.

Alliance Church Plans Expansion

Congregation Votes To Enlarge Church

In order to provide adequate seating capacity for the rapidly growing church and Sunday school, members of the Alliance Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street, voted on Wednesday evening to carry out a program of expansion during the present year, if feasible.

The church, during its annual meeting, acted upon the recommendation of the executive committee, that steps be taken to provide for the future needs of the church and that a program of expansion be carried out.

Although no proposals were offered at the meeting, the future plan of the church is to add a wing to the south of the present building on a property purchased nearly ten years ago, bought with the purpose in mind of enlarging the present church building. The proposed annex would provide much needed auditorium space and also give more Sunday school rooms which are badly needed.

The matter now returns to the executive committee which will take steps to provide for the congregation's future needs.

Seek To Save U.M.T. Plan

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—Administration leaders pressed a drive in the House today to save President Truman's Universal Military Training program from defeat.

Speaker Rayburn (D) Tex., fired the opening gun as opposition mounted to the proposal for a permanent peacetime compulsory training program after the emergency ends.

Rayburn emphasized the danger of a third world war and the importance of Congress not becoming complacent because things seem to be improving in Korea.

Administration leaders will launch a campaign to impress upon the House their belief that the United States is now in a position similar to that which existed in the years just preceding the outbreak of the second world war.

Death Penalty Imposed On Two For Espionage

Co-Conspirator Is Sent To Prison For Thirty Years

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, April 5.—An American-born engineer and his wife, the parents of two children, were sentenced to death today for helping steal atomic secrets for Russia during World War II.

The couple, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, were the first U.S. citizens ever given the death penalty for espionage.

Their convicted co-conspirator, Motron Sobell, was given the maximum prison sentence —30 years.

Delay One Sentence

David Greenglas, former army sergeant at the Los Alamos atomic project who testified against his sister, Ethel Rosenberg, also was due to be sentenced today as a confessed member of the conspiracy, but this was put off until 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Judge Irving R. Kaufman, in sentencing the stoical Rosenbergs to die in New Yorks electric chair at Sing Sing the week beginning May 21 said their crime was "worse than murder."

'Diabolical Conspiracy'

The judge said Rosenberg was the prime mover in a "diabolical

Mystery Probe Is Under Way

Report Important Names Involved In New 'Influence' Probe

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—Senate influence probers plunged today into a mysterious new case, reportedly involving important names.

The case is based on information secured by the Fulbright subcommittee in a closed door session from Sen. Tobey (R) N. H., who is expected to be a key witness at an open hearing to be held next week.

No member of the subcommittee would disclose any details on the case, but one source said that it "has everything" and that the names involved—some of which have come up in earlier influence hearings—willl be "big ones".

Chairman Fulbright (D) Ark., would say only that the case involves the Reconstruction Finance Corp., but not any particular loan issued by that agency. He said that his staff has been ordered to go to work on the Tobey tip at once and said he thought the hearings could be held next week.

The whole affair was surrounded by a thick veil of secrecy and Tobey said that the subcommittee had asked him not to discuss it with the press.

Parade Of Queens

Parade of queens from district Lions clubs followed, with Richard Wilson, deputy district governor in charge. Four contestants took part. Decision of the judges was made after the entertainment.

Miss Virginia Reehl of New Brighton, representing the New Brighton club was judged District queen by the committee, headed by Eben L. Reid, and composed of Mrs. Claire Brown, Mrs. D. B. Forsyth, Mrs. Norman P. Nelson and Dr. Arthur B. Foster.

Miss Reehl will represent the district at the state convention for the state title.

After the address by Mr. Newman, Bill Spotts of Philadelphia was called upon by District Governor Schwartz to give convention information.

Professional entertainment, with two numbers tossed in by Ed Hicks, brought the program up to the awarding of prizes. Club awards were made by Tom Deemer, deputy district governor.

Stoneboro Lions club won honors with 62 persons present from a distance of 26 miles for a total of 1612 points. Greenville was second with 50 present and 1400 points. Baden club finished third with 49 present and 1176 points. Points were arrived at by multiplying number of persons by airline miles from New Castle.

Charles Lumley of the local club awarded the door prizes.

with a certificate of recognition. Invitations are being issued to clubs and other civic organizations to attend.

Mrs. Long is the mother of two children, Mrs. Daniel (Frances) Johnston and Miss Dorothy Long, and has two gradchildren of whom she is very proud, Barbara Louise and Mary Elizabeth Johnston.

Civic Activities

Women have become so active and important in every type of community activity that the international organization of Beta Sigma Phi, in cultural and social sorority, felt that some type of recognition should be given them in every city where there is a chapter of the sorority. Beta Epsilon Gamma chapter here in New Castle was founded in June of 1947, and has since that time contributed to various community charitable activities and participated in numerous projects toward civic betterment.

Mrs. Long, who is a native of Armstrong county, was graduated from Saltsburg high school and Indiana State Teachers' college. She came to New Castle in 1907 where she began her teaching career at the Home street school, now known as the Pollock school.

The "first lady" became a member of the Second U. P. church soon after coming to New Castle and has been very active in religious work, being superintendent of the primary and beginners' department of the Sunday school of the Second U. P. church.

Active In Many Organizations

Active in Y.W.C.A. work for many years, Mrs. Long has twice been president of the Y.W.C.A. board, having served in that capacity last year. She is beginning her ninth year of teaching citizenship classes.

She was president of Wimodausis for five years altogether, is very active in Red Cross work, having worked the past five years in fund raising for that organization, and is chairman of the Residential Division this year. She was active in the U.S.O. during World War II, conducting a canteen; is finance chairman of the Lawrence County Federation of Women's clubs; a member of the Reading Circle of '91 and Sorosis (a parliamentary study class); is active in political circles and a member of the Lawrence County Board of Assistance. These are some of the numerous civic activities, along with her lovely personality and qualities of character and leadership, which have made Mrs. Long a most deserving choice for recognition as "First Lady of the Year."

British Television Helps Fight Crime

LONDON — British television has joined the battle against crime.

Televising the police messages, and perhaps pictures of suspects and articles needing identification will begin shortly.

The British Broadcasting Company, which has a monopoly on both radio and television transmission, has announced its readiness to cooperate with the police "within certain limits."

The conditions governing the televising of police messages will be much the same as those applying to the messages now sent over the radio. All the material to be televised will be checked by Scotland Yard.

McALESTER, OKLAHOMA—Robert Phillips, 22, ex-convict in McAlester, Oklahoma, jail after he was captured in the mountains south of here. Phillips kidnaped 16 year old Jackie Parris and kept her in the woods for two nights and one day. The girl is now in a McAlester hospital.

NEW ADVANCE IS REPORTED TODAY

lied tanks and infantrymen crossed the parallel "in force" in the central front and hammered more than a mile into North Korea.

This was reported in an evening field dispatch from International News Service War Correspondent Robert Schakne who said the UN columns in mountainous mid-Korea met "some of the stiffest resistance in weeks."

The full-scale smash into North Korea on the central front came after spearhead units, personally led by Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, paved the way by knifing across Parallel 38 Wednesday.

Ridgway, top commander of the U.S. Eighth Army and of all UN ground forces in Korea, braved enemy fire to cross the parallel and supervise the advance of the vanguards pacing the central front push.

Lance into North Korea

Armor-paced American, Greek and Thai (Siamese) troops, Schakne related, lanced into Red-ruled North Korea along both sides of the Pukhan river, north and northwest of the Allied-held mountain stronghold of Chunchon.

The dispatch said the UN forces pushed north against heavy enemy fire from machine guns, automatic weapons and small arms.

One Allied assault unit was hit by Chinese 75mm and 105mm artillery fire as it drove over the parallel in the area due north of Chunchon which lies seven miles below the pre-war boundary.

In one sector of the new UN central front drive, Schakne's dispatch said, American troops overran a series of long enemy trenches on the Pukhan's banks north of the celebrated 38th Parallel.

The Eighth Army's Thursday night communique said "heavy enemy fire was reported north of Chunchon" in the path of the Allied central front advance.

Probe Enemy Territory

In west Korea, the bulletin related, a UN armored task force "probed into enemy-held territory" against "light to moderate" Communist opposition.

The announcement credited UN ground forces with inflicting 1,530 casualties on the Reds in Wednesday's fighting.

Supported by pulverizing artillery and air barrages, the UN forces maintained their northward pressure along the whole 130-mile cross-peninsula front. They kept striking in a concerted endeavor to forestall an expected counter-push by more than 600,000 massed Chinese and North Korean troops.

On the east coast, ROK (Republic of Korea) troops methodically consolidated a 16-mile-deep bridgehead above Parallel 38, the artificial dividing line between South and North Korea.

But the main sectors of action lay in the west and center. It was in the flaming west sector that Allied troops, paced by a powerful American armored task force, hacked out a solid 17-mile assault front inside Red North Korea by Thursday morning.

U.S. Eighth Army censors in Korea deleted from field correspondents' dispatches all mention of place names which would pinpoint the location of this line north of the famous 38th Parallel.

However, the Eighth Army's Thursday morning communique told of hardening Red resistance in the vicinity of Yonchon, six miles north of the former political boundary, indicating the American advance had reached approximately that depth.

DEATH PENALTY GIVEN TWO FOR ESPIONAGE

conspiracy" to destroy a peace-loving, God-fearing nation.

The tall, bespectacled electrical engineer towered over his wife as the two stood silently before Judge Kaufman and heard his stern words condemning them to death as traitors.

"By your betrayal," the judge stated, speaking slowly and emphatically in the tense, jammed courtroom, "you have altered the course of history. I consider your crime worse than murder.

"I am convinced I would be violating the sacred trust the people have imposed in me were I to show mercy."

Hushed Court Room

By no outward sign did either Rosenberg or his wife show shock or surprise. They seemed the most impassive people in the very crowded, but hushed court chamber.

It was charged at the trial that ended in the trio's conviction last Thursday that the information they helped deliver to Russia was a "cross section" of the A-bomb dropped at Hiroshima.

Rosenberg at his trial was depicted as a man who in his young manhood had an extremely radical outlook on life—an outlook that later turned him to communism and treason.

Both he and his wife denied throughout their trial the government's charge—bolstered by Greenglass and confessed spy Harry Gold—that they stole their country's atomic secrets.

Rosenberg even refused to say whether he was a Communist.

Impassioned Plea

Counsel for Sobell, 34-year-old electronics and radar expert, made a long, impassioned plea for a stay of sentence for this third defendant, claiming he was convicted on "spurious" evidence.

Judge Kaufman denied the motion and in his subsequent sentencing of Sobell the judge recommended there be no parole—that Sobell be required to serve the full term.

Judge Kaufman's description of Rosenberg as "prime mover" in the atom conspiracy bore out the impression given throughout the trial that the government regarded this quiet, calm man as the No. 1 spy involved in the plot.

Execution of the Rosenbergs in the New York electric chair at Sing Sing is in line with Federal law that such condemned prisoners shall be executed in the state where they were tried and convicted.

SALEM, Ore.—(INS)—Election of Al Wells Loucks as mayor of Salem reunited him with a brother he had not seen in 26 years. Dave Wells of Pilot Rock learned he and Mayor Loucks were long separated brothers when a newspaper picture of the new mayor came to the attention of a nephew of Wells. He noticed the resemblance between the two and a telephone call confirmed they were brothers. Loucks and Wells were separated in San Diego, Cal., when their mother died. Dave struck out on his own while Loucks was adopted by an aunt.

STATE INCOME TAX LOSES IN FIRST VOTE

Better Program?

"I proposed and the House disposed. I doubt that those who voted against the income tax measure will be able to present a better program.

"Taxes are imperatively necessary. I proposed the income tax as the lest harmful to all the people and as the best means to raise the necessary revenues for essential state business."

Sorg said that "Republican leaders in the House have no reason to consider the income tax proposal as being dead."

"I am convinced, despite the action of the House today, that the income tax measure is the most equitable that could be imposed at this time to secure the needed revenue."

Sorg said the tax was necessary because the budget had been pared as far as possible.

Defends Tax

Smith defended the tax as the "fairest" that could be levied and said the "inevitable fact remains" that additional revenues must be provided to meet commitments.

The bill fell on an official tally of 98 to 108. One hundred and five votes are needed to pass House bills. The first roll call vote showed 101 for the tax and 105 against. But Smith, Majority Whip Albert Johnson, and Rep. Edwin C. Ewing, Allegheny, switched their votes for the official record so they may request reconsideration within five legislative days.

The measure will be returned to the House calendar again next week and allowed to hang on the official agenda. It may be several weeks before another show-down vote is taken.

JUST BORROWED

PORTLAND, Ore. — The Cosmopolitan Club has its palm tree back. The club manager told police a young man went to the second floor patio of the club and left with a 7-foot palm tree. Two days later the man called a taxicab driver to a service station, handed him the palm and told him to deliver it to the club.

GARDEN COUNCIL HEARS MRS. PERRY

Another afternoon of delightful activities took place when members of the Garden Council of Lawrence County held their April meeting Wednesday afternoon in the Guild room of the Trinity Episcopal church, with the largest attendance in its history.

Luncheon was served by the Lawrence County Garden club from an attractive and artistically decorated table, centered with a beautiful arrangement of daffodils, blue iris and white snapdragons, with Mrs. C. N. Bruce, president of Garden Council, pouring.

Afterwards Mrs. Bruce presented Mrs. T. A. Clark of the Lawrence County Garden club, who in her charming manner, introduced the speaker for the afternoon, Mrs. L. D. Perry of Briar Hill, Pa., whose subject "Begonias" was most gratefully received. Among her 50 different varieties were four new varieties from Mexico not yet listed.

Business meeting was conducted by Mrs. C. N. Bruce.

Mrs. Richard Marquis reported a membership of 1200 for the Margaret Henry Home auxiliary.

Mrs. E. L. Davenport, a former president of Garden Council, presented Mrs. Marquis, past president of Garden Council, with a lovely gift on behalf of all members of the council.

Mrs. Jesse Shaffer of the Mahoningtown Garden club is chairman of the spring flower show "Spring in Our Homes", to be presented by Garden Council on Friday, May 11, from 2 to 5 p. m. in the Guild room of Trinity Episcopal church. Mrs. Thomas Shaffer will serve as co-chairman for this event.

Highlighting the afternoon events, Mrs. Frank Moorhead, Mrs. A. C. Dietterle and Mrs. A. N. Bergland acted as judges for the floral entries with the following result: arrangements, first and second, Mrs. Jesse Shaffer of the Mahoningtown Garden club; plants, first, Miss Nellie Ingram, Mahoningtown club; second, Mrs. Richard Cooper, Mahoningtown club; third, Mrs. Roy Harlan, Harlansburg club; fourth, Mrs. Richard Marquis, Walmo club; fifth, Mrs. Cooper, Mahoningtown club.

Mrs. Bruce announced the next meeting of the council for May 2, at which time a special speaker from Girard, O., will be presented by the Harlansburg Garden club, her topic to be "Approach to a Flower Show and Points On Judging a Flower Show", which promises to be educational and most interesting.

TALLY CLUB HAS EVENING MEETING

Mrs. Joseph Pandos of Adams street was a pleasing hostess to associates of the Tally club Wednesday evening at her home, Adams street.

Special guests attending were Mrs. John Pandos and Army nurse, Lt. Josephine Skaneski, who is stationed at Ft. Houston, Tex.

Tables of 500 were in play, with Mrs. John Lazar capturing the high score award and Mrs. Phillip Sunseri receiving the galloper.

A short business session was held, with Mrs. Paul Matey elected as treasurer and Mrs. Elmer Whitman as reporter.

At a late hour, Mrs. John Pandos assisted the hostess in serving tasty refreshments at a colorfully decorated table. May 2 is the date of the next meeting for the members, at the home of Mrs. John Lazar, Temple avenue.

S. Star Legion

Mrs. Nancy Jones of Liberty street entertained members of the Service Star Legion, Inc., No. 173, recently at a luncheon held in her home. Aides were Mrs. Mary Hammond and Mrs. Jessie McCann.

On Tuesday evening the Service Star Legion met in the Y.W.C.A. lounge. A social time was held, prizes going to Mrs. Jessie McCann, Mrs. Grace Warwick and Mrs. Edith Cline.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Ida Suber, Mrs. Minnie Nicholson, and Mrs. Edith Cline. Mrs. Margaret Fletcher presided at the business meeting.

BROWN-PEACOCK ALL WHITE WEDDING

An early spring wedding of unusual beauty distinguished by its all white theme, was solemnized Wednesday evening, April 4, at 7:30 o'clock, uniting in marriage Miss Patricia Claire Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clair S. Brown of New Bedford, and James McCall Peacock, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Peacock, 1004 North Mercer street.

Hopewell Presbyterian church, New Bedford, was the setting for the nuptials, with Dr. J. Calvin Rose, pastor of the Second U. P. church, reading the double ring service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a graceful floor length gown of Chantilly lace, fashioned with a sheer silk marquisette yoke, snug, fitted bodice with long pointed sleeves and a bouffant skirt with a plain net dust ruffle. Complementing the costume was a fingertip-length veil of imported French illusion, fastened to a tiara featured with rhinestone clips. Her arm bouquet consisted of white carnations and stephanotis and, as her only jewelry, she wore a filigree platinum pendant studded with a diamond, which was a gift of the groom.

An arm bouquet of pink Virginia carnations was a charming contrast to the dainty white nylon voile gown worn by the maid of honor, Miss Marilyn Brown, sister of the bride. The gown was designed with a fitted bodice, full skirt over taffeta. Bertha collar caught with pearl clips and matching mitts.

Miss Nellie Vannatten and Miss Barbara Drake, both of New Castle, were the bridesmaids. Lending a striking contrast to their all white gowns were arm bouquets of Cardinal Red carnations. Miss Vannatten was in white rayon organdy, styled floor length, with a fitted bodice and full skirt. A Queen Anne collar topped the bodice which was featured with a jacket, three-quarter length sleeves, and crystal buttons. Miss Drake was costumed in white marquisette over taffeta with a full skirt made floor length. The fitted bodice was styled with a Peter Pan collar, cape sleeves and sheer, crystal buttons.

The groom's brother, Willis E. Peacock, served him as best man and ushering were Wade Tieffel of Sharon and James Carlisle of Tarentum. All three attendants are the groom's fraternity brothers.

Providing a note of sentiment, traditional nuptial selections were presented by Miss Jean Morgan, singing "I Love You Truly" and "Oh Promise Me", and George C. Peacock singing "My Alpha Chi Rho Sweetheart". Mrs. Helen Cover was the organist for the occasion.

A reception in the church dining room followed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Peacock left for a honeymoon trip to an undisclosed destination. After the present college term they will make their home in Seattle, Wash.

The bride was graduated from Union high school with the class of 1950 and attended Youngstown college. The groom, an alumnus of the New Castle high school, class of 1949, is attending Allegheny college, Meadville.

CATHERINE MOLECKI MAKES BRIDAL PLANS

Saturday, April 7, is the day chosen by Miss Catherine Molecki, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Kulbuk, R. D. 1, Sheridan street, Sharon, Pa., for her marriage to Walter Wysocki, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Wysocki, 908 Cunningham avenue, New Castle.

The ceremony will be solemnized at 10 a. m. in the St. Stanislaus church, Sharon.

The bride-elect has asked her sister, Miss Frances Kulbuk of Sharon to be her maid of honor. Miss Ann Wysocki, sister of the groom, and Miss Helen Bonas of Sharon will be bridesmaids.

Joseph Wysocki will serve his brother as best man, with ushers to include Mike Molecki, brother of the bride-to-be from Farrell, and Leo Radkowski, brother-in-law of Miss Molecki.

Ritz Club Meets

Mrs. Curtis Guckert of South street received the Ritz club Wednesday evening in her home. A hankie shower honored her on her birthday.

Contests were featured with prizes going to Mrs. Albert DePalmo and Mrs. Fred Farone. A business meeting was held later.

A dainty lunch was served later in the evening, the aide being Mrs. James Barlett.

April 17, is the meeting with Mrs. Fred Farone, of Center street.

MISS JEAN HUCKELS SETS WEDDING DATE

Miss Jean Huckels has chosen Saturday, May 26, as the date of her marriage to Alfred DePolis, son of Mrs. Frances DePolis, 212 East Lutton street. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Anne Huckels, 221 North Crawford avenue.

The young couple will exchange their solemn wedding vows at 9 a. m. in St. Mary's church, with open church to be observed. An open reception will be held from 8 to 11 p. m. in the Unione Calabro hall.

Miss Huckels has named her cousin, Miss Betty Denious of Akron, O., as maid of honor, while the bridesmaids will be Miss Helen DePolis, Mrs. Anthony Nocera, both sisters of the prospective groom, Miss Patricia Bartlett and Miss Karen Sloan.

Thomas DePolis will serve his brother as best man, with Anthony Nocera, Arnold Naples, Amundo Bucci and Paul Gilboy to usher for the ceremony.

EZZO-CEPRO VOWS TO BE SOLEMNIZED

For her marriage on April 7 to Sam Cepro, Miss Dolores Ezzo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ezzo, of 208 East Madison avenue, has chosen as her attendants, Miss Antoinette DeGulio as maid-of-honor, and the Misses Thelma Dantonio, Charlotte Forconi, and Nancy Vallely as bridesmaids.

The prospective groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cepro, of 209 First street, has selected Demetrio Antonelli as best man; the ushers will be Anthony DeFelice, Anthony Izzo, and Fred Perrotta.

Both of the principals are graduates of the New Castle high school. The groom-elect is employed by the Pennsylvania railroad.

JUNIOR READING CIRCLE SEES FILMS

Junior Reading circle assembled in the New Penn hotel Tuesday evening, when members' blood was typed by representatives of the Red Cross.

Mrs. James D. Crawford, a guest, presented a pleasing program, showing colorful moving pictures of the Bellingrath Gardens and "Story of the Orchid".

Later tempting refreshments were served from an attractively appointed table, centered with an arrangement of pink roses, snapdragons and sweetpeas, flanked by white tapers in candelabra. Mrs. Sherman F. Sheffler, Mrs. William A. Woodworth, Jr., Miss Mary Virginia Harris, Mrs. Gerald A. Allen and Mrs. Russell P. Davis served as hostesses.

Mrs. Charles H. Beckwith, 315 Hillcrest avenue, will entertain at her home on Tuesday evening, May 1.

Club '50 Assembles

Mrs. Wayne Reese, Pulaski, entertained the Club '50 in her home on Monday evening. Canasta was the pastime, with prizes awarded to Mrs. Paul Farver and Mrs. Billy Reese.

The club will meet May 7 at the home of Mrs. Paul Farver, West Washington street extension.

TEMPLE YOUTH GROUP COMMITTEE MEETS

Members of the Temple Youth Group held a committee meeting Wednesday evening at the home of Rhoda Kingsberg, East Leasure avenue.

Final plans were discussed for the "family night" party to be held by the group on Saturday, April 14, at 8 o'clock at Temple Israel.

C.B. Club Gathers

Members of the C.B. club met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Paul Smith, English avenue.

Cards featured the evening's diversions, with high score prize going to Mrs. Cecil Speer. The next meeting will be held April 19 at the home of Mrs. Charles Shoaff of Shaw street.

PERMANENT ECA?

Although economic recovery in Western Europe has been "substantially achieved," President Truman will recommend to Congress that the ECA be maintained on a continuing basis "to help carry out the programs essential to the security of the free world." This proposal illustrates anew and in startling outline the Washington habit of never scrapping an agency that once has become a part of the government.

It may be conceded that the ECA has done a good job. The fact that it has finished its work a year ahead of its time table is testimony to that effect. It may even be admitted that it contains within its ranks men of outstanding ability who can perform a public service of high importance.

But the suggestion that the whole organization be kept alive reflects the kind of thinking which has fastened a tremendous bureaucracy upon the nation and caused a constant rise in the cost of running the government.

Before accepting Mr. Truman's recommendation that the ECA be continued—lock, stock and barrel—Congress should demand that he spell out, letter by letter, the new duties he has in mind. He should be asked to do better than to say merely that "new tasks have been forced upon us."

BULL OF THE PAMPAS

By now, little doubt remains that President Peron's startling announcement of atomic progress in Argentina was less a bombshell than a bag a wind. Even the scientist to whom the discovery was ascribed has since hedged to the extent of admitting that his laboratory results might not prove to have practical value.

But the initial claim—of a method of producing large amounts of atomic energy without uranium, under control, and at low cost—was inherently incredible.

Peron said that a method has been found of producing a temperature of millions of degrees, as on the sun, without an explosion. Since all known elements are vaporized by a temperature of less than 6,000 degrees Centigrade, it seems obvious that no "fire" hotter than that could be controlled because no "furnace" could possibly contain it.

Scientists throughout the world are also highly skeptical of the claim to release nuclear energy without uranium. It has never been done by human beings. Perhaps it can be done by researchers on the hydrogen bomb, who hope to fuse hydrogen nuclei. But such a process would require the use of uranium to produce the temperatures necessary to start it going.

Does this attitude on the part of scientists prove that nuclear energy cannot be released in ways they haven't dreamt of? Of course not. There is enormous energy in the atomic nucleus of every element, and science may find new and simpler ways of releasing it.

But before that can be done, many basic discoveries must be made, and must become the common property of scientists. Until they have been made, the odds against Peron's claim being true are many millions to one.

SPRING DRIVE IN KOREA

Reports from the Korean front these spring days are full of foreboding. Correspondents openly predict a Chinese counter-offensive this month and official communiques justify this speculation. If the drive never comes it will not be because the Peiping radio was bluffing when it harshly rejected General MacArthur's offer to talk about a truce.

All indications are that the Chinese are determined to go on with the war. The Peiping broadcast said that the regime's purpose is to clear Korea of "the aggressors." That is still the declared objective. Mao Tse-tung has said again that he will be satisfied with nothing less and apparently he means it.

Fresh Chinese troops are reported on the central front. There is heavy enemy traffic toward the fighting line. General MacArthur's planes are out in force day and night, blasting bridges and enemy convoys. Enemy air opposition has increased.

General Ridgway's job, of course, is to keep the counter-offensive from getting started. The Chinese Reds cannot be permitted to get set for another massive attack like the one that almost achieved a decision last November.

The Eighth Army has taken back much of what it lost last year. And in doing so it has made the North Koreans and the Chinese Communists suffer enormous losses. Total enemy casualties since the start of the war are estimated at 760,300, including 543,000 killed. Casualties suffered by General MacArthur's forces up to the same date are estimated at 228,941, including 57,120 American and 168,652 South Korean.

How long will the Chinese Communists accept such staggering losses? It looks as though they will take them at least until they have tried once more to win a complete victory.

Judging by recent developments in Washington, the still small voice of conscience in that city is still small.

A German astronomer says the sun's heat has been increasing. Guess he hasn't been around these parts, say, since Thanksgiving.

New York sociologist Saul K. Padover told the World Affairs Council that our propaganda has failed "because we have not been without bread." Or maybe it's because we have been without crust.

Predicts Gloomy Future For Britain

Great Britain's harried labor government faced the issue squarely and at the risk of damaging Tourism and possibly digging its own political grave, predicted a gloomy future for the people.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Gaitskell issued a pre-budget summary which warned bluntly that additional sacrifices must be made and said that life will be "harsh and unpleasant."

Issued With Reluctance

The government doubtless issued its survey with a great deal of reluctance as the time is rapidly approaching for opening of the festival of Britain, the most ambitious undertaking the country has ever launched in the nature of an exposition.

There are high hopes that tourists will come by the thousands, particularly from the United States. And those that do will take with them the dollars for which the British treasury is so understandably hungry.

In all probabilities there will be considerable stress in coming weeks on the fact that visitors from abroad will not be subjected to the restrictions that have made British life one of grim austerity.

Devaluation of the pound sterling has almost doubled the value of the dollar. Hotels will be cheap according to American standards, and tourists will not be subjected to the severe rationing of domestic existence.

Automobiles will be on a low rental basis and tourists will not be troubled by any shortage of gasoline. And visitors will be given facilities to traverse the length and breadth of the British Isles to see the exhibitions and witness the entertainments which will take place all over.

Will It Turn Tide

Whether such favorable publicity will turn the tide in favor of extensive Tourism in the face of Gaitskell's announcement is the gamble that Prime Minister Attlee felt compelled to take.

It is possible that in issuing the gloomy prediction Attlee hoped to take some of the wind out of Winston Churchill's sails.

The Conservative wartime prime minister has announced he will not relax in his efforts to get the labor government out of office. He can hardly gain much now by harping on hardships, and in this respect the Gaitskell statement was shrewd in that it blamed all of these on Soviet Russia.

The statement emphasized that it was rearmament and defense which have necessitated drastic new economies, and that the remilitarization of a Britain that had hoped for peaceful progress is traceable solely to Soviet aggression and Communist expansionism.

Attlee May Still Be Safe

Most political observers believe that Attlee may still be reasonably safe, chiefly because the Conservatives have not been able as yet to present a definite program to replace Socialism.

While Churchill has had to be specific in forcing votes of confidence, his party as a whole is accused of generalities.

Tory spokesmen are pictured as attempting to destroy Britain's reputation and prestige by constant destructive criticism.

Probably nothing but an election could show conclusively whether the rank and file of the people still place their nopes in the policy of labor and whether the Conservative strategy of attacking Socialism has made them indignant.

Churchill is convinced that an "appeal to the country" would unseat labor.

But the Socialist leaders have indicated that when and if they feel the time is right, they may take the initiative themselves and bring about a new election.

The records would seem to indicate that before dearmament became necessary, Britain had made remarkable post-war progress.

Visitors to Britain this summer will see few traces of the incredible bombardment that the country underwent.

They are bound to be impressed by the absence of unemployment and the stoicism of the people in the face of current difficulties. And in addition to the fun of the festival, they will be treated to British politics in high gear—always an entertaining spectacle.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHAT MAKES A GOOD BABY SITTER?

Many persons living now never heard the term "baby sitter" during their early years. A half century ago or less, in the horse-and-buggy days, parents often took their young children along with them when they went out in the evenings (usually an unwise practice); nor did so many of them stay out so late then or go so far away from home. Before the automobile the young family more often lived close to the grandparents or other relatives. Also then the unmarried aunt often lived in the family of the young parents and helped bring up the children. In recent years most of these aunts are working or living in homes or rooms of their own. Certainly they have grown more independent; so also have many grandparents. Anyway, baby sitting has become a sizable occupation.

In high schools and colleges home-making departments have developed courses on baby sitting and considerable literature on the subjects has evolved. In various places baby sitting organizations have developed. They aim to set up standards, pay scales, and protection of the baby sitter and the families served.

Staff Of Thirteen

For example, at City College, New York, a Baby Sitter's Association, a non-profit organization, was begun last fall to help students seeking work as baby sitters and now has a staff of thirteen. Standard fees and a baby sitter's code have been drawn up to which all City College students who obtain work through the agency must subscribe. Stressing promptness, alertness and courtesy, the code lists some do's and dont's:

"In caring for your charge, follow the instructions left by parents meticulously.

"Know the location of all supplies that may be needed for the baby.

"Know where the telephone is located and where the parents may be reached on short notice.

"In case of emergency, your first duty is to care for the baby.

"Don't make personal telephone calls.

"Don't raid the ice box indiscriminately.

"Don't invite friends up for the evening.

"Don't use facilities unless given permission."

Mothers At Work

With more young mothers going to work there will be need for more baby sitters. Also there will be a growing need of older persons to care for children by day. This service should appeal to a good many women who have no children or whose own children have grown. There's a need now in every large community for a welfare agency to set up codes and standards for this work and to serve in reliable placement. Also there should be courses offered in night schools and colleges for education of adults in the care of other people's children.

"A Manual for Baby Sitters" has recently been written by Marion Lowndes. It is excellent.

Bible Thought

The sleep of a laboring man is sweet, whether he eat little or much.—Ecc. 5:12.

The only time the flags flying over the capitol in Washington are lowered, is for replacement.

One Man's Opinion

Senator Kefauver's unwillingness to go on with the Crime Investigating Committee beyond next month is understandable. . . . He feels that he has been sustaining long enough.

No successor has been picked, but I hear three senators have been practising in front of the bathroom mirrors.

And one took the picture tube out of his TV set and stuck his head through the back so his wife could see how he'll look in close-up.

But the public demand for more hearings is puzzling. . . . Senator Hunt can't figure whether the people are clamoring for the elimination of gambling or the continuation of Halley.

The networks are puzzled too. . . . They can't figure the demand for Tobey when Tallulah has so much more to offer.

All I know is that one advertising agency now has two audition studios. . . . One for senators.

And Hollywood is working on a picture to be called, "Mr. Smith Comes From Washington."

They Say

WASHINGTON—President Truman: "Our religious faith gives us the answer to the false beliefs of Communism."

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. — Canadian Foreign Minister Lester B. Pearson: "We should continue to localize the war in Korea and end it as soon as possible. We should do this by negotiating terms of peace which will be honorable and will not be a betrayal to our UN obligations."

NEW YORK—French President Vincent Auriol: "France likes you, hates regimes of oppression and desires peace in freedom. France admires you, understands you and loves you."

WASHINGTON—Gen. Omar N. Bradley: "Communism will not be imposed upon the world as long as we are strong . . ."

OUR VERSATILE HUMPTY DUMPTY

Telling How To Sleep

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

I have little or no faith in books which tell a person how to go to sleep, it being my firm conviction that anyone who chooses to add to his income by writing a book isn't crazy about sleeping.

I've never written a book, but I have started a thousand or two of them, and my experience is that authorhood will keep you wider awake, thus enabling you to hear the town crier's "All Is Well," than a cup of New Orleans drip benzedrine.

Some of the books which I have started and never finished, and which have kept me awake long after the owls had hit the sack, are "The Origin and Significance of the Game of Post Office," "From Here to Eternity with Stopover Privileges," "Do Bees Violate the Interstate Commerce Regulations?" and "With the Grownup Bobsey Twins on a Raft with an Adult Tom Swift."

Appeal To Book Publishers

This is in the nature of an appeal to book publishers not to send me free, no strings attached (save for two clippings of my review and, usually, 11 cents postage due), their books on how to sleep.

I make this request for several reasons, one being that I must have some ability to sleep, else I wouldn't be here. I defy any sandman author to name me a fellow who has lived 44 consecutive years, as I have, without having mastered the principles, at least, of sleep.

Another reason is that one man's idea of sleep is another man's poison. Author X says the first thing to do when you stretch out and want to sleep is to clinch your fists and illustrate to yourself what tension is. I'll admit that I have seen this method used successfully in prizefights, but it certainly isn't applicable to everyone.

Let me start clinching my fists at night and a craving for combat overcomes me; every slight that has ever been paid me rises to the face of my memory, and I find myself wide awake, cussing and vowing vengeance.

Other Suggestions

Author B suggests putting pillows under one's arms, knees, head, clavicle, and ear drums. This pillow fight, so to speak, may be just the thing to put the author to sleep, but speaking for myself, it would keep me awake worrying about why I had sunk so much dough in an innerspring mattress.

Author J—well, there is no limit to his suggestions. He advises almost everything. Clinch your pillow and hit your fists. Walk around the block after having filled your stomach with a warm concoction whose principal ingredients are things that a gourmet gnu would sniff at.

I would like to know what is wrong with staying up all night and sleeping all day. I ask this because that is what I do. I am as alert as Phi Beta Kappa Phox at night, and as dull as skimmed ditchwater during the day.

Let's take Damon Runyon for a first example. I take it for granted that he was a most talented man. Thousands enjoyed and are still enjoying his stories and the movies and the show based upon them. I take it for granted that he was magnificently more equipped mentally than most of the 9 to bed and 7 to rise people you can name offhand.

Keep Awake During Day

But sunrise was sunset to Damon. He never could see the difference between the magnificence of the sun and the naked brightness of noon, and the equally bright moon nakedness of 12 midnight.

I could name you a hundred other fairly capable people, including Mr. Hemingway, who can't sleep after the sun comes up because of what he says are "thin eyelids."

My request of publishers is that they send me a book on how to keep awake during the day, not how to sleep at night. Millions and millions of people sleep at night, and consider it the proper thing to do. I would not challenge their right to this choice of hours, lest some day I run for political office and find the night-sleepers solidly lined up against me.

That's all.

PAINTED CHINA

My dear old aunt was gifted. I remember her today
Painting pretty cups and saucers
for the family to display.
The guests who came to dinner would discover as they ate
A lovely bed of pansies, blue and yellow, on the plate.

Every bowl became a garden.
Who had emptied one of soup
Found daffodils and tulips in a gayly colored group.
Water lilies, most exquisite, came to bloom upon the dish.
"Appropriate," said father, "for the days we're serving fish!"

I have never seen such blossoms,
and I'm sure I never will,
As those my aunt created with such artistry and skill.
When I'd finished with the pudding, was it chocolate, bread or rice,
To discover sweet peas blooming
I considered rather nice.

Has the plate rail gone forever from the family dining room
With the chinaware exhibit on which poppies came to bloom?
Are forget-me-nots forgotten?
Did that painting art decline
And vanish with the passing of that gifted aunt of mine?

From Me To You

By MESEEALL

Yesterday we said . . . that the Barber of Seville was the last concert in the four-series that the Metropolitan Concert Guild presented this season . . . we were correct . . . it was the last . . . BUT there is more to come. Remember back in December when the snow was deep . . . and no one was traveling about . . . The 6th of December to be exact . . . Gladys Swarthout was scheduled to make with the show here . . . This program was postponed . . . and on April 17th . . . Gladys Swarthout will present her program. Season tickets for the Metropolitan Concert Guild series will be honored, of course . . . so don't go throwing them away, those pasteboards.

For those of you who didn't take advantage of the season tickets . . . you will have the opportunity to buy reserved seats for the April 17th performance. Same procedure as before, call the Concert Office . . . Phone 5560 or 4835.

* * *

Saturday evening of this week you have a date . . . to enjoy Barber Shop singing at its best . . . Cathedral Auditorium . . . there are still plenty of seats available . . . in fact, there are too many seats available. We people should support the Barber Shop Quartet . . . do it right now.

Yes, we know . . . there are many things going on . . . and it's difficult to fit all of the activities into your living schedule. However . . . with the number of residents in the community . . . the variety of activities does spread around fairly well. Always something to do that will please a great number . . . Today, we can't think too seriously . . . must be the day . . . spring fever. Funny how one such day will make such a difference . . . so let's not take much more time . . . let's have fun just living and remembering the items that we have mentioned above.

Health Talks

PEPPERS AND ROSES

Nature has dolled up some of our valuable plants in pretty colors so that they will be attractive and enjoyable.

Peppers are fixed up in bright red or yellow or green. Butch likes the pretty colors and also likes the music when he eats them.

They provide valuable vitamins and minerals which keep the roses in his cheeks.

Roses in his cheeks and roses in the garden are both fine for Butch. Health and beauty and kindness and love and generosity and honesty and fairplay are a few of the good things Mom wants Butch to know.

He keeps his eye on Granddad and the teacher and the policemen and the preacher and Jack Benny and the janitor and Joe Louis and some others who ought to watch their foot too.

Folks Of Fame

Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., United States senator, was born in Nahant, Mass., July 5, 1902. Starting his career with a Boston newspaper, he went to a New York newspaper later. He was a member of the Massachusetts general court for two terms, and then elected to the United States senate for the term ending in 1943 and was re-elected in 1942, but resigned to enter the United States army. After World War II, he was re-elected, in 1946, to serve until 1953. His home, when not in Washintgon, is Beverly, Mass. His grandfather was a prominent United States senator.

Washington Calling

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

'Come And Get It' Approach

WASHINGTON, April 5.—To build a pipe line into the Federal treasury, preferably with the sanction of a law cleverly drawn, is the goal of a great many smart men around Washington. Some of their schemes are being exposed by the rash of investigations now going on.

But at the investigation stage the padlock on the barn door has long since been broken and the horse stolen. If the treasury is to be protected—and, incidentally, the taxpayer—the proper start must be made when legislation involving government billions is adopted.

The other day the Senate Banking and Currency committee heard Alexander Summer, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, recommend 100 per cent government insurance for housing loans. This drew down the indignation of Chairman Burnet Maybank of South Carolina. Maybank had previously announced his intention of looking into defense contract provisions which permit industry to write off the cost of new plants by tax deductions in a few years and come out owning a valuable installation paid for by the government.

Defender Of Private Enterprise

It goes without saying that Maybank is a staunch defender of private enterprise. But he holds to the apparently old-fashioned notion that private enterprise involves at least some risk, apart from a subsidy or guarantee by government, and also some element of competition.

In this connection, analysis of a housing bill introduced in the House by Representative Jesse Wolcott, Republican, of Michigan shows a remarkable "come and get it" approach. Authorizing $75,000,000 for insured mortgages, the bill provides that on default within one year the mortgagee would receive from the Federal Housing Administration 102.5 per cent of the unpaid balance of the mortgage; in two years he would get 102 per cent, three years 101 per cent, four years 100 per cent and thereafter 99 per cent.

The Wolcott bill, which is said to have been originally intended as a substitute for a defense housing measure killed in the House, also contains extremely liberal tax amortization provisions.

According to one study that has been made, the following would be perfectly possible—and legal:

Puts Up Very Little

Builder X could have the FHA loans on 60 individual houses for defense workers at $10,000 a house for a total of $600,000. Mr. X doesn't have to put up anything but some raw land and his time. The bank, with up to 102 per cent protection from the FHA, lends the mortgage funds to the builder.

After Mr. X has built the houses, for purposes of federal income taxes he may get a deduction of $100,000 a year on account of a purely theoretical depreciation in that large amount. If Mr. X has a total taxable income of $200,000 a year, this deduction will be worth to him a net of about $90,000. If the project defaults in five years, Mr. X has a total of $450,000, in effect, paid out to him from the treasury of the United States.

The bank is perfectly content, too, since it earns about $24,000 a year without any risk in view of he FHA insurance. If the project defaults, in say, two years, the bank will have earned about $50,000 in interest and it will get back the $600,000 principal plus $12,000 more to cover any small amount of cost the bank might otherwise have to pay.

The Wolcott bill permits a $9,000 mortgage for a one-family house and an $18,000 mortgage for a two-family dwelling, with increases of $1,200 for each additional bedroom. The comparable figures in a similar bill before Maybank's committee are $8,100, $15,000 and $1,080.

Explains Great Boom

Senator John Sparkman of Alabama put into the record of hearings before the Senate committee an article from the architectural forum, one of the Luce publications. This explains how the great boom in apartment houses has been largely financed under FHA's famous Section 608. The article, giving figures from before the Korean war, states:

". . . That if too many vacancies appear and mortgage payments cannot be made, the United States Government may become the owner of up to 2.4 billion dollars' worth of apartment buildings. But nobody else involved in the deal will lose a cent. In fact, they will all have made money."

By various devices, according to the article, builders can take up to 12 per cent profit in cash out of a long-term mortgage loan backed up by the taxpayer's credit. "Because the whole 608 program is insulated from the normal forces of a competitive market by government insurance, neither the builder nor the lender need have the slightest concern with whether the apartments being put up so fast today will be vacant tomorrow. Just what this means to building quality can be seen by contrasting 608 sharpshooting with the program of a legitimate equity investor in rental housing like the New York Life Insurance Co. New York Life's chief concern is to build as much long-term 'livability' value in its developments as it possibly can under current construction costs . . ."

Perhaps the kind of inducements contained in the Wolcott bill are necessary to get defense housing. But no one should be surprised if at some future date still another investigation shows that the government was extraordinarily generous wtih a few people who knew their way around.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Some time ago I wrote about an elderly lady in California who complained that although so much is being done for children around Christmas time, very little attention is paid to the old folks.

She wrote on the letterhead of a nice, but not expensive hotel, which was apparently her address.

Many, many readers reacted to my column. Most offered help. Many expressed sympathy and made suggestions. Quite a few were willing to exchange correspondence with her or do whatever they could to alleviate her loneliness.

It was evident that lonesomeness among the aged is quite widespread and that the lady's plight had touched the kind hearts of my correspondents.

I forwarded quite a few of the letters to her, and apparently she has found some new friends. I am glad that I have been able to help her at least a little.

She just let me know that she is going to answer all the mail as soon as she can—and she was even nice enough to send me stamps to reimburse me for the postage I spent in forwarding the letters to her.

But among the mail there was one—and fortunately only one—nasty letter, from a seventy-one-year-old man.

Let me quote what the California woman says about that letter:

"Am wondering if you remember the one from the old religious fanatic who wrote four pages of sarcasm.

"He certainly got a lot of venom off his chest and let out on me all the pent-up disgust he has for all 'well-to-do, snooty, self-centered old women.'

"Oh, boy, did he lay it on!

"Then he goes on to say 'this lady no doubt went to live in a hotel in order to have complete comfort, every service, people waiting on her, doing everything for her, giving her special attention, eating her meals in a dining room.'

"That fellow has the nerve to quote the Golden Rule to me!"

She continues:

"It so happens I WORK NIGHTS at said hotel, going on duty at 10 p. m. I have had this job for four years and have been living in a furnished room with housekeeping privileges for eight years.

"I have dreamed and saved my money anticipating an humble little cottage for my old age. But everybody with an ounce of sense knows that a person 68 years old, with nothing but a small pension

Scouts Schedule First Aid Meet Friday Evening

Annual first aid meet of Kuskuski Boy Scout district will be held Friday evening, April 6, in George Washington junior high school, beginning at 7 o'clock.

There have been 53 patrols registered to date, and according to Dale Clobus, chairman of camping and activities, the participation and attendance promises to break all records.

Present reservations indicate an attendance of more than 500.

Each patrol competing in the meet will be given three practical first aid problems to complete, and each crew of explorers will have the same number of problems.

The judges will consist of 25 scout leaders from the Mercer County Boy Scout council.

Because of the large enrollment, groups will alternate in working out the first aid problems in the gymnasium, and witnessing a film on the national scout jamboree in the school auditorium.

SCOTT TWP.

Mrs. Margery Peters of Leesburg visited recently with her mother, Mrs. Jennie Walton.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Marshall and family, Mrs. Rachel Woods and Nancy Lee Clark spent last Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Annie Livingston in New Castle.

Mrs. Thomas West was a very pleasing hostess on Easter when she entertained her children and their families. The table was beautifully decorated with spring flowers. Guests were from East New Castle, East Brook and Highland Heights. Mr. and Mrs. William West and son were also present. Mr. Craig from East New Castle was a special guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Enos of near New Castle moved to the farm recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Dan McDeavitt.

Mrs. Thomas DeHass has been confined to her home by illness.

The Dorcas society of the Neshannock U. P. church met recently at the home of Mrs. Charlotte Forbes.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

'MISS COLORADO' 75 YEARS LATER

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO Mrs. Mary Butler Brown, now 91, was "Miss Colorado" at the celebration marking Colorado's admittance to the Union on the nation's 100th birthday. She was the first baby girl born in Denver. Mrs. Brown again will reign as "Miss Colorado" at the diamond jubilee spectacle "Colorful Colorado," which will open the State Fair in Pueblo in August. (International)

Who says the 90's were gay?

Sure they were gay if you could afford several servants to do the countless difficult and disagreeable household tasks. But, the average woman couldn't afford such a luxury. Her days were filled with hard work, leaving little time for leisure or "gaiety".

What a difference today! Even the most modest home has many electric servants to help make housework easier. Modern electric home-making requires less time and effort, leaving more time for other activities.

No, most of us wouldn't want to go back and live in the gay nineties when today we can live electrically and really enjoy the difference.

But one thing we all enjoy is the soft, mellow harmonizing of the barber shop quartets. Recapture the charm of those bygone days at the annual "Parade of Quartets" sponsored by the local chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America.

Would Cut Down On Much Government Printing

WASHINGTON, April 5—(INS)—A Connecticut Congressman suggested today the government stop printing advice on bat proofing of buildings and tasty cooking of muskrat meat.

In fact, Rep. Patterson, a Republican, urged the government to get out of the whole printing business except for those documents which are helpful and informative for our law-makers and citizens.

Another thing Patterson doesn't like about the government printing office, the largest in the world, is that it prints technical reports about American science that are given to foreign governments at no charge.

Patterson said:

"Today 67 foreign governments in Washington, including Russia, continue to receive their share of the 61,979,102 documents peddled by the government printing office annually."

The Congressman pointed out that FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover requested and got the government to quit sending such documents to interned axis diplomats and agents during the last war.

Patterson then suggested "it is time that others be taken off this mailing list now—and that an effort be made to prevent them from buying technical documents to send back home."

The Connecticut Republican deplored the fact that some 150,000 photographs are being stored in 124 steel filing cabinets "which are needed for other more important government business."

Patterson said the pictures bear such titles as "fat man dozing," "oil cans at the side of a filling station" and "men picking their teeth."

About the treatise on bats in buildings, Patterson commented: "This publication goes into considerable detail but when it is thoroughly analyzed, it boils down to this: you open the doors of your building early in the evening to let the bats out—then, you close the doors after they are gone. That's bat-proofing."

Patterson claimed the government spends 55 million dollars a year to bind and print some 41,000 books, booklets, pamphlets, reports and other printed matter.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Harris Shevelson was enticed to a lower grade school's graduation play, produced, directed — and written!—by the younsters themselves. Every performer was at least a Duke or Duchess. The King had a whopping monologue in which he boasted of the five long years he had spent in battle, winning one decisive victory after another.

At this, the seven-year-old Queen stalked to the wings, and let forth five of the smallest kids in the school, dressed as infants. She pointed to them proudly and announced, "My King, I, too, have not been idle."

A well-lubricated drummer staggered into a hotel lobby, and picked up a pen to register. As he did so a remarkable facsimile of a bedbug crawled across the desk.

The drummer recoiled and informed the reception clerk, "I've been in lots of hotels, and I've been bitten by some mighty smart bedbugs, but—hic—this is the first time one ever came down to see what room I was getting!"

Around Hollywood

By JAMES PADGITT

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, April 5—Blonde Barbara Payton rolled her big blue eyes and said that the best way she knows for a girl to make her dreams come true is to become a movie actress.

Barbara who plays bad girl parts on the screen is fairly bursting with happiness because she recently returned from New York where she realized one of her dreams.

"I rode in Central Park in a carriage. I was wearing a white mink coat," she said breathlessly.

This may sound silly in an atomic world, she allowed, but she also pointed out that a girl is entitled to live a little in her own fashion.

As soon as Barbara finished her role in "only the valiant", in which she is the object of the affections of both Gregory Peck and Gig Young, she hied herself to New York where she bought the white mink and jogged through Central park in a carriage.

"It was snowing, too," she said. "Just like I'd hoped it would. I have never been happier."

The special dream of Barbara's first took filmy form in her mind a few years ago when she read a book. It was one of F. Scott Fitzgerald's novels. The heroine road around the park and thought about life.

"I decided that was for me," the actress said, "and since then it has always represented a kind of success."

Seek Film Mark

But Abbott and Lou Costello have made up their minds to establish a film mark that will stand for a long time in Hollywood's record book.

They have decided to stay at their cinematic comedy until their aggregate box office gross has reached one hundred million dollars.

"Sounds ridiculous," say Costello, "But it really isn't. So far, we have brought in $72,000,000 at the box office during the ten and a half years we have been making pictures. We'll hit our goal within five years."

The comics have finished their 27th starring comedy at Universal-International studios, a hillbilly farce titled, "The Real McCoy". Two of their previous films. "Buck Privates" and "Abbott and Costello Meet Frankenstein", have already passed the $4,000,000 mark in box office figures.

LOOKING AT LIFE

for security, cannot buy a home these days.

"Working nights naturally necessitates sleeping during the day. And that is why I've lost contact with friends and cannot do the religious and charity work I would like to do"

All sorts of thoughts come into one's mind on receipt of a letter like this, don't they?

I shall leave you to your own thoughts.

But to the man who wrote that nasty letter I would like to quote from Abraham Lincoln's inaugural address "With malice toward none, with charity for all . . . let us strive on to finish the work we are in".

THE BEGINNINGS OF SIN

ADAM AND EVE DISOBEY THE LORD

Scripture—Genesis 3:1-5:5; 6:5-9:17.

Expulsion of Adam and Eve from the garden.

"For the wages of sin is death; but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord." — Romans 6:23.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

The problem of sin has been the subject of argument and surmise ever since the world began, we may presume. Why does man do the things he does? Why does he cheat, steal, maim or kill his fellowman? Why does he bring on wars that destroy all the things that make life on earth worth living?—wars that benefit no one?

Modern psychologists try to probe out the answers as to why individuals act as they do, but the end of crime and violence is not yet in sight.

In last week's lesson we saw the creation of the world and man and woman made and installed in a beautiful garden in which was everything to make their lives contented and happy—no worries of any kind.

The could eat of the fruit of any of the trees except one—the Tree of the Knowledge of good and evil. Of this one, God warned them, they must not eat the fruit, or they would die.

Of all the beast of the garden, the serpent (who really was Satan) was the most subtle. Said he to Eve, "Yea, hath God said, Ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden?"

Eve said they might eat of every one but the tree that stood in the midst of the garden, but of that they might not eat, lest they die.

"Ye shall not surely die," said the serpent, "for God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil."

Eve looked at the fruit, realized that it was good for food, pleasant to look upon, reputed to make one wise, so she ate of it herself and gave some to Adam, who also ate it.

The first effect of the fruit was to make them feel they were naked. They had been as God made them, and they had no feelings of immodesty, but now they hastily made aprons of fig leaves and wore them.

When God called Adam as He walked in the garden, both Adam and Eve hid, for they were afraid of what they had done.

The Lord God called Adam, saying, "Where art thou?" Adam answered that he heard Him call but but was afraid because he was naked. God asked immediately if they had eaten of the fruit of the Forbidden Tree, and Adam said, "The woman Thou gavest to be with me, she gave me of the tree, and I did eat."

When the Lord asked Eve what she had done, she blamed the serpent, saying, "The serpent beguiled me, and I did eat."

The Lord cursed the serpent, dooming him to crawl on his belly all the days of his life, to eat dust, and He put enmity between the woman and her offspring and the serpent: "It shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel."

Adam and Eve were to be driven from the garden. They were to earn their living henceforth by hard work in the earth. At the east end of the garden God put cherubims with a flaming sword which turned every way, "to keep the way of the Tree of Life."

This lesson covers so much ground that it is impossible to touch upon it all. Cain and Abel were born to Adam and Eve, and as they grew up, Cain became jealous of Abel who found more favor with the Lord. Therefore Cain killed Abel, and was made a wanderer upon the face of the earth, with a mark on him so that all might know him and slay him not.

So wickedness spread over the face of God's earth, until the Lord was so angered that He decided to destroy everything on earth that He had created. One man, who was a follower of the lord, Noah, was to be saved.

Him God commanded to build a great ark, and to take his family and two of every living beast and creeping thing in it, to be kept safe from the flood that would drown everything else on the earth.

The ark was built and inhabited as the Lord had told Noah, and in time the rains came, and continued for 40 days and 40 nights, until even the tops of the highest mountains were covered.

When the rain stopped, gradually the mountain tops appeared and the ark came to rest on Mount Ararat. Noah sent out a raven, which went to and fro until the waters were dried up.

And Noah sent forth a dove which returned, having found no spot on which it could rest; again, after seven days, he sent the dove forth again and when it came back it held an olive leaf in its beak.

When the earth was again dry and the ark came to rest on the ground, Noah builded an altar to the Lord and offered a sacrifice, and the Lord promised that never again would He curse the ground, nor smite every living thing, and He set a rainbow in the sky to remind Him of His promise.

Graham Makes Report Of Congress Activities In March

Congressman Louis E. Graham, of the Lawrence, Beaver, Butler county district, submits a report of Congress proceedings during the month of March in the following contribution.

To the Citizens of the 25th Congressional District:

Previously I had reported to you on the Legislative activities for the months of January and February, 1951.

For three successive weeks the Joint Senate and House Committee on Immigration and Naturalization has been engaged in holding hearings on S. 716; H.R. 2379 and H.R. 2816, three bills intended to revise and codify the Immigration and Naturalization laws of the United States. The committee is composed of Senators McCarren, O'Conor, Smith, Ferguson, Wiley, and Jenner, and Representatives Walter, Feigham, Chelf, Gossett, Fellows, Case and myself.

On March 5, the first of the sensational exposures concerning the activities and actions of the R.F.C. were made before the Senate Banking Sub-Committee headed by Senator Fulbright of Arkansas. Each day thereafter equally astounding revelations were disclosed.

The same day Senator Byrd of Virginia of the Joint Congressional Committee on Reduction of Non-Essential Federal Expenditures reported that the Military Agencies hired an additional 58,388 civilians during January. He states that the January draft quota was 80,000, and this means that the military hired 3 civilians for every 4 men drafted. He pointed out that the military is hiring civilians at the rate of almost 2,000 a day, and that total federal civilian employment reach 2,245,275 at the end of January.

The Senate Expenditures Committee reported that 16 new agencies or departmental divisions were set up in the last 6 months of 1950 to deal with the National Emergency.

Same day, Representatives Vursell of Illinois, told the House that Military authorities are buying enough supplies for 10,000,000 men. He stated that the Navy is buying desks for $198 each, and wooden office chairs for $78 each.

Senator Byrd reported that Assistant Defense Secretary W. J. McNeil told the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees at a closed session that defense spending probably will amount to $48 billion in fiscal 1953, compared with $41 billion in fiscal 1952. Sen. Byrd stated that he expects the military budget to remain at $48 billion for "several years" and that this would mean a total federal budget of about $80 billion a year.

March 9th—The Senate approved the bill to draft 18-year-olds.

Same Day—The House Republican Policy Committee (of which I am a member) voted to recommend an amendment to the draft law prohibiting shipment of troops to Europe under the Atlantic Pact until such an action is approved by both House and Senate.

Same Day — The House Un-American Activities Committee published a voluminous list of organizations which have been investigated and declared subversive by official federal, state and local government agencies.

March 12 — Sen. McCarran, Chairman of a Senate Judiciary Sub-Committee investigating Communism divided the sub-committee into two "task forces." Sen. O'Conor, will head a group investigating the extent of foreign domination of Communist activities in the United States. Sen. Eastland will head a second group assigned to check on Communist infiltration into government agencies.

March 13—By a vote of 227-167, the House rejected H.R. 1545 which would have permitted the President to reorganize Federal Agencies temporarily, subject to a veto by either the House or Senate. The Senate had approved a similar bill.

March 14—The House by a vote of 219-170 refused to consider the Administration's Housing Bill, H.R. 2988, and sent it back to the Banking Committee.

Same Day—The House approved the President's plan to reorganize the R.F.C. The vote was 196 for the plan and 200 against it. A Constitutional majority of 218 votes is required to kill a presidential reorganization plan. Unless the Senate rejects the plan, it will go into effect automatically on April 30th.

Same Day—Senate passed S. 728 which relaxes the immigration barriers against former members of totalitarian organizations.

Same Day—A House Judiciary Sub-Committee approved H.R. 3142. Its main objective is to prevent member of Congress from accepting "kickbacks" from their employees.

March 15 — Army Secretary Frank Pace told a House Executive Expenditures Sub-Cmmittee that the government sold a German corporation known as STEG, one ($1) billion dollars worth of surplus Army material for $210 million and then tried to get it back.

March 19 — The House Rules Committee cleared for debate the military manpower bill (S.L.). Debate will start on April 3 and will be limited to 4 days.

Representative Arends, Minority Whip, told the committee amendments will be offered to: (1) Separate the draft and Universal Military Training sections of the bill; (2) Limit the strength of the armed forces to 3.5 million or 4 million; (3) Bar the shipment of troops to Europe without specific Congressional approval; (4) Include a specific expiration date for the draft.

March 20—The Veterans' Administration told Congress it will close only 72 contact offices this year. It had planned to close 321. It estimated that 90 offices will be closed in fiscal 1952.

Same Day—The House agreed to a Senate amendment to the Communist Control Act to permit former nominal members of totalitarian organizations to enter the United States. As originally approved by the House, the Bill, H.R. 2339, excluded former Communists. The Senate broadened it to allow ex-Communists, as well as ex-Nazis and Facists, to enter the country, under certain conditions. The President has now signed this bill into law.

March 21—Chairman Cannon of the House Appropriations Committee said that the F.B.I. is prepared to arrest 4,500 spies within an hour after the war starts. He stated that the spies are being watched but are allowed to remain at large so that officials can see whom they are associating with.

March 22—The House by a vote of 138-136 restored most of a tentative $24,773,000 cut in the appropriation of nearly $3 billion for the Treasury and Post Office Departments.

Representative Taber, ranking minority member of the Appropriations Committee, stated that he thought efforts to win a greater reduction in the appropriation would have been successful "if we had had a better attendance." I am glad to say that I was in attendance and was one of the 136 who voted against restoring the cuts.

This is the second of the monthly reports promised to you on March 1st.

LOUIS E. GRAHAM,
Member of Congress.

Kiwanis Club Hears Program By Union Chorus

New Castle Kiwanis club members had an enjoyable program in connection with their weekly luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Wednesday noon, when the Union high school chorus, composed of 70 fine young singers, presented a group of choral numbers.

In addition to the numbers by the chorus, solo numbers were presented by Charles Kelso, bass soloist of the chorus, and Miss Joanne Miller, soprano. They were accompanied by Miss Phyllis Phillips and Lincoln Hartford, at the piano.

The program was much the same as that given last week before the Lions club, and this splendid musical organization, directed by James W. James, director, gave a well rounded program, which proved a delightful change from the speaking programs.

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

DON'T INTERRUPT

"Give a call down to people who interrupt or listen impatiently when someone is talking. I refer, especially, to such interruptions as 'you don't say so!' 'Imagine that,' etc. Isn't a nod of the head sufficient indication that the talker is being appreciated?"

Answer: Interruptions are most annoying to the reconteur. Sometimes those who burst in with "you don't say so" and "imagine that" think that in so doing they are indicating intense interest, but their constant interuption becomes very annoying. A slight nod the head is sufficient.

Worse still, by far, is the rude person who breaks into a story with: "Oh, I know. I was there," or "yes, I heard that before."

Regardless of how boring a story is, you must hear it completed. Not even a bore should be so crudely and tactlessly cut off. Polite people have patience and courtesy enough to listen to a story no matter how often they may have heard it before. Inattention is always discourteous. Even though not interested, you should show an interest in what others are telling.

Act as if you are sincerely glad to see people and eager to hear their stories. Even if you are bored, assume an interested expression. There is nothing that will assure your popularity more than a reputation of being a good listener. We are naturally drawn to people who seem to enjoy our stories and show a keen interest in our conversation.

Remember that a good conversationalist is invariably a good listener.

Question: When attending a hotel dance, one usually tips the cloak room attendant. Does this rule apply also at a dance in a private house?

Answer: No. Do not tip the cloak room attendant at a private party, unless she has rendered some special service, such as mending a ripped stocking or dress.

Controversy On Fiscal Program

Split Develops On Governor Fine's Budget Proposals

HARRISBURG, April 5 — How serious the Republican insurrection in the senate against Governor Fine's fiscal program becomes is anybody's guess...A split has developed between Fine and some of his lieutenants in the upper chamber...The chief executive's lengthy blast at critics of his budget indicated he will not tolerate opposition within party ranks...Fine's statement probably will be the last word for the present...When the bill clears the house and comes before the senate for debate, the width of the split will be defined clearly...No doubt efforts will be made in the interim to square differences...The income tax is one levy most lawmakers will not support wholeheartedly because of the obvious hue and cry it will raise in their constituencies...Many believe it the only answer to needed revenue...A further boost in corporate net income tax above the one per cent proposed by Fine is out because the state Chamber of Commerce has told the governor higher taxes would hurt business.

One senator, who declined quotation by name, has charged that lobbyists on Capitol Hill are using the long-distance telephones in the senate chambers at public expense...He said the phones are there for the convenience of lawmakers to transact long-distance business affecting legislation...The bills are paid by the state...He said many lobbyists, without so much as a by-your-leave, have been using the phones to post their companies on capitol trends with the taxpayers picking up the tab.

Governor Fine has the dubious distinction of being snubbed by a group of high school athletes...It happened at Hershey during the regional PIAA basketball playoff between Swoyersville and Chambersburg...At half time, with Swoyersville ahead by a comfortable margin of 39 to 23, the governor has his picture taken with the Swoyersville quintet...During the last half of the game, one of Fine's advisors apparently told him it wouldn't be a bad idea to have his picture taken with the Chambersburg team in order to keep everyone happy...Accordingly, after the game, won by Swoyersville 70 to 61, word was sent to the Chambersburg dressing room that the governor would pose for a picture...But by that time, the defeat plus the fact Fine had already posed with the other team rankled the Chambersburg outfit and they sent word back that there would be no pictures of any sort.

Harrisburg policemen are lobbying to have a bill passed appropriating $5,000 per biennium for work they handle for the state...The money would go into the policemen's retirement fund...The capital cops argue they should be treated the same as Harrisburg firemen who get the same amount every two years for payment for possible fire fighting on capitol grounds. The firemen use the money to buy equipment for volunteers...Police are incensed particularly about heavy, no-pay overtime traffic control duties they perform during farm show week at Harrisburg...They claim that if paid one dollar per hour for overtime work during that week, it would total over $5,000...Rep. Nolan Ziegler (R) Dauphin, is plugging for the money but the policeman's lobbyist said he is having a tough time breaking down Norman Wood (R) Lancaster, who rides herd on all such bills as chairman of the house appropriations committee.

State Capitol

Pennsylvania One Of Seven

Six Other States Or Sales Taxes Without Income

HARRISBURG, April 5—(INS)—Pennsylvania is one of the seven states in the nation not imposing to date either a personal income or sales tax, according to the State Chamber of Commerce . . . The others are Maine, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Nebraska, Nevada and Texas . . . Eighteen states impose both taxes, 12 levy a personal income but not a sales tax, while 11 collect a sales impost but not an income tax . . . A chart prepared by the chamber showed that states in which both sales and income taxes are collected dominate the South, Middlewest and Southwest . . . States in which either a sales or an income tax, but never both, are levied predominate in the New England states, the East and the far Northwest . . . In nearby states, New York collects a personal income tax, Ohio and West Virginia have sales levies while Maryland has both income and sales taxes.

Sen. Albert R. Pechan (R) Indiana, insists that he has no behind-the-scene support of his Senate-approved bill, now before the House, calling for loyalty oaths by teachers and various public officials . . . Pechan admits the proposal has the hearty backing of the American Legion but enjoys announced support from no other quarter . . . Pechan, the legion's legislative chairman, specifically disclaimed any tie-in with University of Pennsylvania President Harold E. Stassen in connection with the bill . . . However, shortly after the Senate reluctantly sanctioned the proposal by a strict party vote, Pechan sent a telegram to Stassen in which he reported winning the first round.

Charles J. Margiotti, a former State Attorney General in two administrations of different political hue, intends to stay in the political swim . . . He has no intention of running for any office, saying "I wouldn't even run for dog catcher." . . . There was a time, however, when the "old Roman" was eyeing a possible appointment to one of the appellate courts . . . "I'll continue to play an active part in politics and it will be definitely on the Republican side," said Margiotti . . . He was a registered Republican when he was attorney general 1935-38 in the cabinet of Democrat George H. Earle . . . When he took over the duties again in July, 1950, for eight months he was a registered Democrat . . . Margiotti is the only attorney general in the state's history to have served under a Republican and Democratic governor.

Liquor Board Chairman Frederick T. Gelder sees no chance of liquor rationing at present . . . The board's policies will be determined in large measure by the federal government's demands for alcohol and grain . . . "Manufacturers may not be able to build up extra reserves but they'll have plenty on hand to sell," reported Gelder.

Now that Governor Fine has ended unlisted state automobile licenses, except for a restricted few such as FBI and liquor and narcotics agents, there is speculation on Capitol Hill whether he will end special tags when the 1952 plates are distributed . . . Specials are tags sporting the owner's initials, telephone or house number or some particular sequence . . . They are highly favored by minor politicians . . . Fine's political tutor, the late Governor Pinchot, not only ended such practices but had all state cars painted a sand color so they would be conspicuous . . . It ended much unauthorized use of state automobiles and gasoline.

A low-cost menu for lunch is one that includes tomato juice, stuffed egg salad, hot biscuits and jam and milk. Mother, as well as the youngsters in the family, should have a glass of milk at noon.

TEST FOR BOSSES

MADISON, Wis. — Psychologists at the University of Wisconsin have worked out a test to predict how future bosses will get along with those under them. They explain that the test is the first which tries to discover if the prospective supervisor will be a good leader and if he'll keep his workers satisfied.

Ostriches grow a new crop of feathers every nine months.

LAST DITCH

VANCOUVER — Freddie Harestead's car went off a slippery road and into the ditch. He managed to get the car back on the highway and was starting to roll when the car stopped. Investigation showed the gas tank was still in the ditch.

Levine Issues Statement On Court Action

District Attorney Sherman K. Levine today commented upon the action of Judge W. Walter Braham following the trial of the case of Esther Guanciale against the Loyal Order of Moose. Judge Braham said from the bench that he was turning over to the district attorney information that evidence of the presence of slot machines in the Moose club had been presented.

The testimony was to the effect that on the night of November 5, 1949, Esther Guanciale was playing the slot machines and had been injured when a loaded cigarette exploded in her face.

District Attorney's Statement

District Attorney Levine's statement follows:

"Our policy as to slot machines is and has been very clear. During our first year of office we ordered all clubs to remove slot machines and immediately received their cooperation. Slot machines had been in existence in authorized clubs in Lawrence County prior to our term in office, with the full knowledge of everyone.

"In ordering slot machines out of clubs we felt that the majority of the members of the clubs were good citizens and were law abiding and we were making it possible for their clubs to become law abiding. These good citizens did cooperate and so far as we have been able to determine, there are no slot machines operating in Lawrence County and there will be none during the remainder of my term in office.

"For the remainder of our term we shall continue to enforce the law impartially. To single out one club for prosecution for a violation, which occurred prior to our term in office, would be hypocrasy. We shall continue as we have done, to enforce the law impartially during the remainder of our term in office."

Eagles Auxiliary 12th Anniversary; Officers Are Elected

The ladies' auxiliary of the Fraternal Order of Eagles held their regular meeting Tuesday evening, April 3, with President Orpha McConnell presiding.

The following officers were elected for the year, June 1, 1951, to June 1, 1952: president, Mrs. Ruby Thompson; vice president, Mrs. Pearl White; chaplain, Mrs. Maleta Pilch; conductress, Mrs. Frances Johnston; secretary for three years, Mrs. Cecelia Jackson; treasurer, Mrs. Kathryn Williams; trustee for three years, Mrs. Dorothy Heckart; inside guard, Mrs. Minnie Pittaway; outside guard, Mrs. Martha Hook. The auxiliary selected Mrs. Mary Peterson for the honorary mother of the year.

Following the election Mrs. Henrietta Davis, chairlady for April, presented the annual past presidents and charter members program; 34 chairs were assembled in a semi-circle, entwined with red, white and blue ribbon, in the center of the circle, a table graced with a beautifully decorated three-tiered cake with 12 candles marking the 12th anniversary of the auxiliary. Twenty-eight of the original 65 charter members and eight of the 12 past presidents were present. Mrs. Davis spoke on behalf of the charter members, and Mrs. Olive Key for the past presidents. Mrs. Mabel Herberg told of the many humorous events that attended the forming of the auxiliary. The honor guests were given a gift in honor of the occasion.

State officers Mrs. Adaline Navarra and Mrs. Cecelia Jackson, with an escort of eight girls, presented the latest past president, Mrs. Elsie Pugh, at the altar, where she was given a lovely gift from the auxiliary by Mrs. Navarra, a gardenia corsage by Mrs. Davis and the jeweled past president's pin by Mrs. Jackson. Mrs. Jackson then escorted this year's honorary mother, Mrs. Henrietta Davis, to the president's station, who gave her a gift from the auxiliary. Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Jackson then presented gifts to all the officers and the honor guards.

The annual anniversary dinner will be held Tuesday, April 27, at a local hotel at 6:30 p. m.

The remainder of the evening was spent in playing cards and games, and a delicious lunch was served by the aides for April, the Mesdames Georgia Hurst, Pearl White, Dorothy Skuba, Catherine Dukes, Belle Kennedy, Mary McCracken, Rose DiLullo, Clara Grimes, Cassie Morrow, Mary Mariacher, Nettie Stamos, Betty Semler, Sue Ross, Adaline Navarra, Laura Williams, Mae Albert, Bess Lutz and Minnie Pittaway.

The committees for the state convention to be held in New Castle June 19-20 are working to make this event a most outstanding success and are receiving wonderful co-operation from the citizens of New Castle.

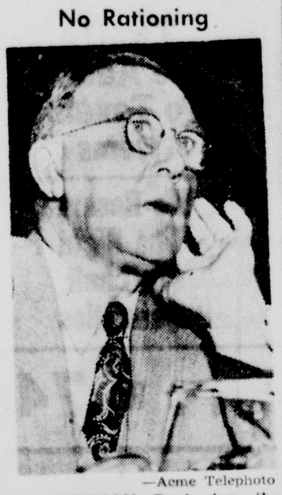
No Rationing



—Acme Telephoto

WASHINGTON—Reviewing the mobilization program, House-Senate Joint committe on Defense production program heard Charles E. Wilson, mobilization director, who said that he still hopes defense production program can be carried out without consumer rationing.

TOO BAD! KIDS!

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—The government on Wednesday restricted the use of castor oil, but the kiddies have no reason to smile because family use is not affected.

In its first defense food order, effective tomorrow, the Agriculture Department moved to conserve supplies of castor bean oil for essential military and civilian use.

Families aren't affected since the new restriction applies only to users of 60 pounds or more of castor oil per calendar year.

Bad driving kills more than 32,000 and injures more than a million persons each year.

Price Charts Should Be Sent To Pittsburgh

Merchants who are required to file pricing charts under Ceiling Price Regulation No. 7 are asked to send their completed charts to the District Office of Price Stabilization at Pittsburgh.

The office is located in the Fulton Bldg., 101 Sixth street.

O.P.S. reports that considerable confusion and delay is being caused by merchants sending these charts to O.P.S. in Washington.

Orange Lodge No. 19

Ladies of Orange Lodge No. 129 will meet Friday evening in Malta Hall, E. Washington street, at 7:30 p.m., with a social time at 8:30 p.m.

Miss Nord Speaks To U.P. Prayer Group

Tuesday Morning Prayer group, consisting of women of United Presbyterian congregations in New Castle and vicinity, assembled April 3, in Second U. P. church.

Miss Mary Jane Nord, policewoman for the City of New Castle, gave an enlightening and interesting talk about her work, "Youth," being the theme for the morning's discussion.

Mrs. Frank Bovard, of the host church, led devotions, while Mrs. W. W. Bell, of Bethel congregation, gave the prayer items.

Officers for the coming year follow: president, Mrs. Lloyd McCormick, Highland; first vice-president, Mrs. Benjamin Jenkins, First church; second vice-president, Mrs. Elmer Armstrong, Oak Grove; and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Charles Hollis, Third church.

The group's next assembly will be in Mahoning U. P. church on Tuesday morning, May 1, at 10:30 o'clock.

The hibiscus is the national flower of Hawaii.

EGG OUTPUT

Report Russia Has Large Force In Siberia Now

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, April 6. — (Friday) — Soviet Russia has massed an oversized army and air force in Siberia, a highly placed intelligence source told International News Service today.

The high-ranking source described the action as "power politics with a punch behind it."

Large Force Maintained

The intelligence official said since 1945 Soviet Russia has maintained an army of between 30 and 40 divisions in Siberia, which he reported was far more than the USSR needed for defense of Siberian provinces.

The Russian air force in the Far East likewise is at much greater strength, the spokesman said, than is necessary for defense.

So far, however, the Russians have not found it necessary to move ground troops into Manchuria where the numerically huge Chinese Communist army has all the manpower Communism needs in that area.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—President Truman gave guarded endorsement today to House Speaker Rayburn's intimation that Russian troops are being massed in Manchuria, and said there is great danger of a Third World War.

The President would not comment directly at his news conference on Rayburn's statement to the House but said the Speaker of the House is a truthful man.

Mr. Truman said he would make no further comment on Rayburn's announcement, but went on to say that the danger of a Third World War is as great today as it has ever been.

Raise $200,000 For New York Heart Fund

NEW YORK, April 5.—(INS)—A million dollars worth of Broadway and Hollywood talent raised nearly $200,000 for the New York heart fund last night in one of the most sensational openings of Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey's "greatest show on earth."

In a stirring tribute to the memory of Louise Baer, guiding genius of the fund for heart research who died late last year after arranging for last night's mammoth show, the cream of the show world turned out in spangles. And gave all.

Jimmy Durante, in a preposterous top-hat, served as deputy ringmaster, assisted by Bob Hope, Arthur Godfrey and Ted Husing.

Crime Probers May Hear Previously Missing Witnesses

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—The Kefauver crime committee may wind up the last few days of its present one-month extension by parading previously missing witnesses through a public hearing.

A committee aide said today that he expects hearings for the recently-arrested missing witnesses to be public and possibly to include a new opportunity for some witnesses cited for contempt to testify more fully.

Mighty Mo En Route To United States

(BULLETIN)

HONOLULU, T. H., April 5.—(INS)—The historic United States battleship Missouri arrived at Pearl Harbor today en route home on "rotation" from the Korean war.

During the past seven months the "Mighty Mo" has raked both coasts of Korea with 3,000 16-inch shells and 8,000 rounds of five-inch ammunition.

U. S. Casualties In Korea Up To 58,550

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—The Defense department placed total American casualties in Korea today at 58,550, an increase of 1,430 over the previous summary.

The new total includes 8,753 killed in action; 39,023 wounded, of whom 1,025 have died, and 10,744 listed as missing.

Of the latter, 9,481 are listed as "current missing". Another 112 are listed as "captured", while 87 have died in captivity and 1,094 formerly missing have returned to their posts.

The army has suffered 48,673 casualties, the marine corps 8,794, the navy 633 and the air force 450.

The official list is made up of men whose nearest relatives have been notified. It lags about three weeks behind the actual total.

Workman Hurt At Bessemer Plant

Bernard Anderson, aged 29 years, of Bessemer, suffered a fracture of the left leg while at his work at the Bessemer Limestone and Cement Co., late Wednesday morning, for which he received treatment at the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Mr. Anderson was attempting to close the door on a hopper, when the bar he was using slipped, and he twisted his leg, causing a fracture.

Plan Red Cross Report Meeting

Extend Efforts For Completion Of Drive

Goal	$52,000
Subscribed	44,273
Needed	$ 7,727

Every effort is being extended by the volunteer workers of the Lawrence County Chapter Red Cross to complete their assignments by noon Friday when a report meeting will be held at the New Penn hotel.

Fund Chairman L. J. Lewis has received many telegrams and messages this week emphasizing that the campaign goal of $52,000 is an absolute minimum, if we are to provide vital Red Cross services to the nation and, particularly, to our fighting men. It was also pointed out by Roland Harriman, president, American National Red Cross, that the "Red Cross job is everyone's job, and if everyone does not respond with the money needed, it will be necessary for Red Cross to notify our military leaders that is must curtail its program of service to the armed forces. It will also be necessary," he said, "to serve notice that we can not expand the blood program to provde all of the whole blood needed for the fighting front and for our own civil defense and local needs. In effect," Harriman stated, "the Red Cross would have to admit to a potential aggressor that the American people are not willing to prepare voluntarily for the consequences of attack upon them."

Urge Support

Word was also received from William Green, president of American Federation of Labor—"I urge that the wage earners of America give all they can, and then give some more, so that the activities of the American National Red Cross may be adequtely financed for the protection of us all."

Philip Murray, president, C.I.O., wired: "In this period of national emergency, and international crisis, the work of the Red Cross must go on. Americans must not fail now to give their full support to the Red Cross."

Lewis urges all who may have been missed unintentionally or who may have been away when the volunteer called to sit down now and write that check to Red Cross. The contribution may be sent or taken to the Chapter House at 39 North Beaver street, New Castle.

MAN INJURED

Louis Valenti, an employe of Matthew Leivo and Co., suffered a laceration near the right eye when a peice of concrete was dislodged and struck him on the head as he was climbing a set of stairs, outside the hospital. He was admitted for X-ray treatment. The accident occurred late Tuesday morning.

Back In Filmdom

WAVING to cameramen, French actress Denise Darcel answers the call of the film studios as she arrives in Hollywood to feature in a new picture. In her first American movie, Denise was the only woman in a cast of 200 men. Now she'll be in a picture in which there are 200 women in the cast. (International)

Club Officers Are Arrested

Violation Of State Liquor Control Act Charge Is Faced

Officers and trustees of the Primo Umberta Club of Division street are under bail today in the office of Alderman James C. Brice, charged with violating the state liquor control act.

B. C. Brady, an agent of the board swore out informations against the officers and trustees of the club and bail of $500 was posted for each of them.

The agents confiscated 13 one gallon jugs either full or partially full of home made wine upon which it is alleged no tax has been paid to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Nine Barrels

In addition, nine barrels of home made wine were confiscated in the house next door to the club, owned by the club but occupied by Vincent Dellassandro, a trustee of the club and the janitor.

The information on the raid is being turned over to the Federal Alcohol Tax Unit for whatever action it sees fit to take.

Facing charges for the violation are the following officers and trustees: Raymond Peluso, president; Patsy Rozzi, vice president; Frank Ferrazzo, Italian secretary; Marion Cumo, American secretary; Rocco Peluso, financial secretary; Orient De Cola, treasurer; Vincento Rozzi, steward; trustees, Fred Paolone, Frank Conti, Vincent Dellassandro, Dan Di Paolo, Vincent Julian, Nick Ambrosio.

A hearing will be held later.

Woman Given $3850 Damages

All Women Jury Shows Sympathy

Apparently the 12 women comprising the jury in the case of Julia Biega against John Kasicky do not like the idea of gentlemen beating women.

After hearing the case in which the plaintiff testified to having been beaten by the defendant, the jury awarded the plaintiff $3850. The case was heard in court room two by Judge John G. Lamoree.

Two other verdicts were taken in No. 2, both of them to set damages in cases where judgment had been taken and the defendants did not appear.

In the case of L. W. McConnell against Clytus H. Steinberger, the jury set the damages at $1500.

In the case of Carlton Wilson against Harry Aven, the jury placed the damages at $272.16.

In court room No. 1 a rather odd case was called for trial. John Krivyanick claims he had deposited with Nicholas Krezo over $5000 for safe keeping, preferring his friend to a bank.

In 1949 Mr. Krivyanick wanted to go back to Czecho-Slovakia to see his wife and son and asked Krezo for his money. He claims Krezo refused to give him that amount, although admitting he had $1000 belonging to him.

TO REAPPORTION 3RD WARD

After considering the matter, the county commissioners have decided to reapportion the third ward voting precincts. County Solicitor William McElwee, Jr., has been authorized by the commissioners to arrange new precinct divisions of the ward, after which the court will pass upon the new setup.

HUNTING FOR SWEESY

County Detective Howard C. Klebe is looking for Mont L. Sweesy, Jr., upon a charge of issuing fraudulent checks. Mr. Sweesy has conducted an accountancy business here for several years but recently issued some bad checks, according to Klebe. He is accused of passing the bad checks in some adjoining towns.

LIGHT REGISTRATION

Apparently the voters of Bessemer were not too interested in a special registration day. Held in Bessemer Tuesday the total day's work resulted in four new registrations, three Democrats and one Republican.

TO GET CERTIFICATES

The course of study, consisting of 24 evening sessions, on the subject of criminal law for the minor judiciary, sponsored by the Public Service Institute, Department of Public Instruction, commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which started last September and was conducted each Wednesday evening through the fall and winter at the Lawrence county court house, has now been completed.

The study course on criminal law was attended by 26 local aldermen, justices of the peace and constables. Of those attending, 22 successfully completed the course and in the near future will be presented with certificates of attainment issued by the Public Service Institute, Department of Public Instruction of the commonwealth.

The public officials attending the school used a special text book on criminal law for the minor judiciary, prepared by the Department of Public Instruction in cooperation with the institute of local and state government of the University of Pennsylvania. Leroy K. Donaldson, former district attorney, served as instructor for the group. Sgt. Raymond A. Blythe of the Pennsylvania state police served as special instructor on the motor vehicle code.

Twenty two of the aldermen and justices of the peace passed the examination after their course of study and on April 24 will receive their certificates of attainment at a dinner.

Teachers Have Dinner-Meeting

"A Spring Tonic For Teachers" was the timely topic of Miss Clara Cockerille of State College when she spoke on Wednesday evening to one hundred seventy classroom teachers at a dinner meeting of the Midwestern Convention District. Her speech was humorous yet thought-provoking.

Miss E. Vernice Saeger of Sharon, president of the organization introduced Miss Cockerille.

The Epworth M. E. church community room was the meeting place for the classroom teachers assembled from Beaver, Butler, Clarion, Lawrence and Mercer counties.

Miss MacKinney Presides

Presiding at the dinner was Miss Anne MacKinney of Butler. The invocation was pronounced by Howard S. Miller of Beaver Falls. At the conclusion of a delicious turkey dinner, Miss Isabel Expley of Pittsburgh and Herbert P. Lauterbach of Aliquippa spoke briefly. Miss Epley is vice president of the Pennsylvania State Education Association and Mr. Lauterbach, president of the Department of Classroom Teachers of the state organization.

Mrs. George Strehler added to the pleasure of the group by singing three contralto solos. She was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. John F. Love.

The planning committee for the dinner was composed of Miss Martha S. Mathews of New Castle, Miss Margaret Reese of Farrell, and Gabriel A. Buzash of Beaver Falls. Local arrangements were handled by Miss Mathews, Miss Betty I. Brown, president of New Castle Branch, and Miss A. Martha Mathews. Miss Georgiana McNees headed the decorating committee. The springtime flowers and colorful butterfly decorations made a real contribution to the success of the first meeting of the classroom teachers held locally.

Local C.B.M.C. To Name Officers Friday

New Castle Christian Business Men's Committee will assemble Friday evening in the City Rescue Mission, for their annual election of officers, following their regular meeting. The service will open at 8 o'clock with a Gospel program, directed by Clare M. Lutz, chairman.

The business meeting will take place at 9 o'clock, when new officers will be named. The Christian Business Men's Committee is an organization of Christian laymen from all the churches and is open to all Christian men of the city.

The group co-sponsored the recent evangelistic meetings in the city. The men aid in sponsoring Youth for Christ and other worthy projects about the city and county.

REPORT PROFESSOR

PHILADELPHIA, April 5.—(INS)—A Lehigh University English professor is "near death" today in Philadelphia General hospital following an early morning street fight in Philadelphia.

Police said that two brothers—John Dougherty, 28, and James, 24—have confessed beating up Prof. Cloyd Criswell, 38, of W West Market St., Bethlehem.

According to police, Prof. Criswell and a friend got into a brawl with the Dougherty brothers shortly after they left a tavern early this morning.

Oscar Winners Deny Connection With Red Front Organizations

WASHINGTON, April 5—(INS) The House Un-American Activities Committee invited motion picture academy ward winners Jose Ferrer and Judy Holliday, and a host of other prominent persons, to deny today that they are affiliated with Communist front organization.

The committee made public a long roster of names, many of them well known in the fields of entertainment, literature and art, and said the persons listed sponsored groups taking part in the so-called Communist peace offensive.

With publication of the list, the committee emphasized that it has no desire to charge any innocent person with Communist affiliation. It said it would publish the name of any individual who has withdrawn from alleged Red-front organizations or whose name was used without his permission or knowledge.

Publication of the name of Miss Holliday who won her award for her part in "Born Yesterday," drew a quick denial.

Ferrer already has denied any Communist taint, and said last week that award of a movie Oscar to him for his performance in "Cyrano De Bergerac" was "an act of faith and a vote of confidence."

FREIGHT TRAIN WRECK

TUXEDO PARK, N. Y., April 5.—(INS)—A fast moving southbound freight train of the Erie railroad piled up in the Tuxedo Park station this morning wrecking an estimated 26 cars. No one was injured.

The wreck occurred at 5:10 a.m., just after the engine of the long, highballing freight had pulled past the Tuxedo Park station.

Police said that the cause of the accident had not been determined but they theorized that one of the cars of the long freight had jumped the tracks.

South Mill Street Is Being Patched

City streets department employes today commenced repairing South Mill street which was badly damaged during the November-December snow and later vicious weather conditions.

Amiesite is being put in the holes.

Commissioner Joe O'Leary stated that in addition to this work, employes are cleaning dirt from paved thoroughfares and also putting ashes on dirt streets where ashes are needed.

There are more than 33,000,000 automobiles in America.

U. S. BUYS BUTTER

WASHINGTON, April 5—(INS)—The Agriculture Department announced the first government purchase of butter in almost seven months.

The department bought 48,640 pounds of Grade B butter in Chicago on April 2, at 64 cents a pound, the 1951 support price for this commodity.

Officials said the purchase was made because production of dairy products increased sharply in the spring months.

The government bought a total of 128 million pounds of butter during 1950, but expects to buy much less this year because of decreased production and increased consumer demand.

Gasoline Stocks At All-Time High

NEW YORK, April 5.—(INS)—The American Petroleum Institute reported that gasoline stocks reached another new all-time high in the week ended March 31.

According to the institute, gasoline stocks in storage last week rose 947,000 barrels to a record 142,186,000 barrels. The week before they had increased 232,000 barrels. Gasoline stocks in storage at this time a year ago totaled 135,586,000 barrels. Normally, gasoline stocks can be expected to decrease as automobile driving weather improves beginning in April.

The institute reported that daily crude oil production in the week ended March 31 increased 3,900 barrels to 6,041,400 barrels. In the preceding week, there had been a decline of 5,250 barrels in daily crude output.

TWO ARE ARRESTED

Addison Forney, West Long avenue, and William R. Scott, Scioto street, are held in the county jail on serious morals charges sworn to by city police. The offenses are alleged to have been committed against young girls. Bail cannot be given for the offenses, according to Alderman J. C. Brice, before whom the charges were sworn to yesterday.

St. Vitus Holy Name Will Meet

St. Vitus Holy Name Society will hear Edward J. Allen, chief of police of Youngstown, O., and formerly of Erie, Pa., Sunday morning after the 7 o'clock mass in St. Vitus church.

The group will receive Holy Communion during mass and later will assemsble in the church basement for a tasty Communion breakfast.

Program chairman, Paul Failla, will introduce the speaker after breakfast. Chief Allen is active in church groups of St. Domenick's church, Youngstown, O., and is the leader of the Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts of church troops.

President Dr. John P. Prioletti expects a large group to attend the session.

Army To Recreate 508th Airborne Infantry Regiment

WASHINGTON, April 5—(INS)—The Army announced that the 508th Airborne Infantry Regiment of World War II fame will be recreated late this month at Ft. Bragg, N. C.

The unit will be commanded by Col. Joseph P. Cleland, of Omaha, Neb., a native of Holdredge, Neb.

The 508th was called a parachute regiment in World War II, and was attached to the 82nd Airborne Division.

Charge Convict Planned Escape Of Three Prisoners

NORRISTOWN, Pa., April 5.—(INS)—A convict slated for discharge from Graterford prison yesterday was held in Montgomery county jail today on charges of plotting a sensational escape for three other prisoners.

Willis J. Voorhees, 51, of Lima, O., was nabbed just as he was about to step through the door to freedom after serving a term for larceny.

Police said he carried with him plans for the escape of Harry Johnson, 28, of Athens, Pa., and Melvin Skipper, 28, and Joseph Caldron, 36, both of Baltimore.

OUTDOOR RAMBLES with N. R. CASILLO

THE SINGING JAY

On a sunny morning a couple of weeks ago while sitting down to breakfast, we were electrified to hear what sounded like the call of a bobwhite. A cautious and rather prolonged investigation conducted from the back porch failed to disclose the bird.

The last time we heard that plaintive call we were thrilled to see its author emerge from the high grasses of an adjoining field to cautiously stalk into the bit of open area occurring at that point. In a moment he was followed by another, and then another, until a total of 29 birds were in sight at one time. For a minute or two they deployed over the open spot before once again assuming the single file formation and disappear into the grasses. It was the high spot in our avian adventures.

We were about to turn aside when the call rang out once again. This time the whistler was immediately spotted. Instead of on the ground he was high in a tree. It was one of a trio of starlings perched atop a silver poplar.

Our disappointment at having been defrauded was quickly dispelled by an increasing admiration for the fine imitation. Starlings are excellent mimics and on occasion will astound a listener with their amazing repertoire. Above their squeaky chatter it is often possible to discern a liberal sprinkling of pleasing sounds and even snatches of song.

There are but few perching birds incapable of singing. True, frequently the song consists of but a few brief notes, but if it is musical, then it meets all of the requirements. Of course, this may be questioned by the unmusical.

The whip-poor-will's chant is made up of three vociferous and repetitous notes, yet it must be classed as a song. Even the feeble lisp of the aristocratically handsome cedar waxwing is a song since it has a definite tonal quality. It is said that even the predatory northern shrike or butcher bird relents and does a bit of singing between butcherings. A tropical bird called the Poor-me-One has been known to drive one to madness with the abysmal sadness of its song. It sounds like a woman in the throes of the most unfathomable grief.

The crow does not excel in its musical ability. Most of us are familiar only with its well-known caw. However, it has superior imitative faculties, and captive crows have exhibited unusual aptitude for learning the songs of other birds. During courtship crows often utter rather melodious, soft, cooing notes that are likely to surprise one not familiar with this phase of the crow's accomplishments.

On the Neshannock just across the creek from Jack Gerson's is located a hemlock wood in which crows nest extensively. This is the time of the year and any one sojourning through that attractive part of our county is apt to hear these gentler manifestations of the crow's many faceted nature.

There's a pretty legend about the jay who upon seeing himself in a mirror for the first time was so well pleased with his handsome blue and white attire that he burst into song. Be that as it may, it is the bluejay's voice, more than his color, that makes him conspicuous. On the slightest provocation he delights in uttering his strident scream of JAY, JAY, JAY!

Comparatively few observers are familiar wtih the song of the bluejay. Like many boisterous individuals it isn't often that he shows the more genteel side of his character. When he sings, the jay throws off his noisy demeanor. He retires to the seclusion of a thick tangle of bushes or to the topmost branches of a tree to sing his quiet solo. The song is a mixture of faint whistles and low, sweet notes rather suggestive of a robin's song. The song frequently lasts for two or three minutes and it is so unbecoming to the jay's usual nature as to dumfound as well as confound any who are hearing it for the first time. We can count the occasions on the fingers of one hand.

A few days ago we heard a king of musical twitter issuing from a copse of evergreens. It was recognized at once as coming from a jay. When the singer disclosed himself it was with the air of a villain trying to hide the fact that he had committed a good deed. Who knows? He may have seen his image in a mirror. What is more like it is that he probably was thinking of an equally handsome lady jay. It's spring, you know.

L.C.U.S. To Have Holy Pilgrimage

The Lawrence County Union of Sodalities will sponsor a Holy Year Pilgrimage on Sunday, April 8, at 3 p.m., for all sodalities of the county.

The pilgrimage of Holy Year, which decrees that four churches are to be visited in order to gain the indulgences will start at the SS. Philip and James' church.

St. Joseph's, St. Mary's and St. Vitus churches are the other Catholic churches to be visited in order to complete the pilgrimage, it was stated.

Prefect Rita Felice will have charge of arrangements.

Death Penalty Modified In Massachusetts

BOSTON, April 5—(INS)—Mrs. Sara Ehrmann, a prominent Boston civic worker, emerged victorious in her 23-year fight for modification of the death penalty for first degree murder in Massachusetts.

"I am not so much 'elated' as I am 'relieved'," she told International News Service after witnessing Gov. Paul A. Dever sign the law Wednesday allowing juries to recommend lift sentences in certain cases.

The new Massachusetts law, which takes effect July 2, permits juries to recommend life sentences except in cases of premeditated murder involving rape or attempted rape.

Mrs. Ehrmann, wife of Attorney Herbert E. Ehrmann and mother of a doctor and rabbi, praised the legislature for its "clear thinking on social justice," and Gov. Dewey for his "human sympathy" in signing the law.

Turns to Pennsylvania

Discussing her long, personal fight to abolish or modify the death penalty law, Mrs. Ehrmann said public opinion as a result of the Sacco-Vanzetti case and other murder cases provided the biggest stumbling block to the legislation.

Now, with other members of the committee to abolish capital punishment, Mrs. Ehrmann is turning her attention to the national scene —particularly Pennsylvania.

She said the Philadelphia Bar Association Committee on Criminal Law has prepared a brief on the subject and that a meeting is scheduled soon. She also asserted that a movement is underway in Pennsylvania to have the legislature "call an open public hearing to sound out the public."

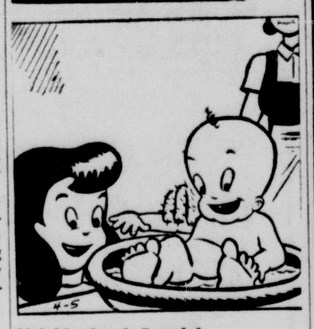
THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE



Neighborhood Scandal

The neighborhood was in a furor! Four of the five-year-olds had been found with most of their clothes off in the Jones basement.

Several of the mothers placed the blame on Timmy Brown's shoulders. "My Anita," said Mrs. Arthur, "would never do a thing like that unless that Timmy had made her!" And all of the parents whose children were involv. felt disgraced. They didn't see how they could face the neighbors.

Fortunately, a wise grandmother helped get things straight. In a brusque but kind way, she talked with the mothers on her street. "Look, my dears," she said, "there's nothing bad about those youngsters. They're just intelligently curious. They wouldn't be bright if they weren't interested in the differences between boys and girls. What you people need to do is to satisfy their curiosity in a better way."

And what is this better way?

First of all, when children ask questions about their bodies, about where babies come from or any other such questions, simple, honest, answers should be given. It's a good idea, too, when babies are being bathed to permit brothers and sisters to be present and perhaps to lend a hand.

Above all, if we want our children to maintain normal, healthy attitudes, no feeling should be given that they have committed an unpardonable sin. A mistake, perhaps, but in no sense a crime.

MARSHFIELD, MO. — Kenneth Essery, 24 year old farmer, who confessed killing four members of a Conway, Mo., family and firing 14 shots at another couple because "they didn't like me".

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

THE BROKEN ENGAGEMENT

"The broken engagement entails no disgrace or just criticism. This sometimes happens in the best of families. In fact, it is more frequent among "society" people than among just plain citizens. And it is far better to break an engagement early than to wish you had done so when it becomes too late. If voluntary and not forced by third parties against the will of either of the betrothed the broken engagement causes less tragedy and grief than the marital separation or divorce that will almost inevitably follow if the engagement is allowed to withstand the doubts or suspicions of either of the betrothed parties. Pride forbidding such a breach is misplaced and any sense of "honor" forbidding it is mistaken.

In my mail, I am frequently asked for the proper form for announcing a broken engagement and some writers ask whether a girl thus seperated from her former fiance should sit at home in seclusion or continue her social activities and subject herself to criticism by mingling with other men.

I tell these uncertain ones that their personal reasons for such a breach is nobody's business; that it will be sufficient to impart the news to near relatives and friends for whom it will be sure to spread widely enough. To protect herself from being shelved indefinitely, the girl should have the benefit of such publicity announcing that she is in circulation. And the man should be given the same benefit, although the freedom of his actions will in any event indicate that he is no longer gettered. Many correspondents ask whether a newspaper announcement of the broken engagement should be made. But to this, I object as it amounts to opening the closet door while rattling one of the family skeletons. If, however, the couple's wedding invitations have already been issued a definite announcement must be made to all who have received such invitation and the form in best taste would be simply this:

Mr. and Mrs. John Brown recall the invitations issued for the wedding of their daughter.

No explanation should be given on the card—none such as would be forthcoming in the case of a sudden death in one of the immediate families.

COW CLIPPING

WASHINGTON—(INS) — Dairy specialists at the various state colleges of agriculture are trying to convince herd owners that clipping their cows serves several useful purposes. Directly or indirectly, they say the practice improves the quality of milk, helps to maintain output under certain conditions, and makes it easier to control lice.

LONG TRAIN

HARRISBURG—If all the coal mined in the U. S. in one year were loaded into one train it would reach around the world about three times.

EARLY PLANTED POTATOES LESS SUBJECT TO BLIGHT

Where potato blight is an annual problem, early potatoes, such as Chippewa and Cobbler, planted as early as possible have the best chance of excaping blight. Blight losses usually are less severe on Katahdin and other mid-season varieties where they are planted early.

Although late blight may start early in the season when rainfall is heavy and the nights are cool, most of its spread and damage usually results during August and September, or during the late growing season when conditions are usually quite favorable for the development and spread of the disease.

CLEAN MILKING MACHINES LAST LONGER

By washing milking machines properly they last longer, operate more efficiently and produce a better quality of milk. Clean milking machines also help keep down mastitis infection in cows.

Here are the steps for a good job of washing milking machines:

Rinse the equipment thoroughly with lukewarm water (100° F.)

Completely dismantle the milker.

Soak the equipment in an alkaline solution for at least a half-hour. The temperature of the water should be about 115° F.

Because washing powder solutions are sticky, quickly but thoroughly brush all of the equipment. Use the proper brushes.

Rinse the equipment to remove the alkaline solution. Rinse water temperature should be 155° F.

Store the equipment dry. Place the parts of the milker on a metal table that has a screened top.

When it is time to milk again, assemble the equipment and sanitize it. Then proceed to milk according to the managed milking routine.

NATURAL FOODS BEST SOURCES OF VITAMINS

Some people in their haste to buy synthetic vitamins overlook the natural foods which are excellent sources of vitamins.

As soon as folks hear of B12, some try to buy a vitamin capsule containing this vitamin in addition to other needed for health. Research has not yet showed how much adult human beings need of vitamin B12. It has been proved necessary for growth in babies and it seems to be effective in curing anemia in adults when injected into the veins.

Milk is a good source of vitamin B12. From tests made so far, when milk is used in normal amounts it provides enough B12. Pasteurization does not seem to affect the vitamin B12 content. Besides milk, organ and muscle meats and eggs are excellent sources of vitamin B12.

Natural foods contain a variety of food elements—vitamins, minerals, proteins, carbohydrates, and fats. Many of these food elements have an important relation to each other. Persons with normal health usually are better off if they use natural sources of vitamins. When they do this they are more sure of getting all the food elements they need for health. Folks who are low in their vitamin intake will find the family physician the best judge of what additional vitamins are neded in the diet.

CARE OF THE IRON

Keep the surface of your electric iron smooth and clean at all times. You can rub the pressing surface over a piece of waxed paper covered with salt or rub the surface of the iron while warm with beeswax or paraffin wrapped in a clean cloth.

Washing Clothes Technical Skill

ATLANTA. — (INS) — Today's children are finding it difficult to enact the nursery rime, "This is the way we wash our clothes."

The process has become too technical.

So says Miss Mary Morton, research specialist for a home equipment manufacturer, in Atlanta to attend a Home Service Conference.

Miss Morton said:

"A tremendous number of washing machines are being sold. Apparently during World War II—when satisfactory domestic help was so difficult to obtain—every housewife promised herself a post war home laundry."

The research specialist has found Mrs. America has kept her promise.

"As a result," Miss Morton explained, "washing has entered a highly specialized field requiring more brain than brawn.

"This is due to highly technical pieces of equipment, a wider variety of fabrics on the market and the development of certain types of soaps and detergents.

Miss Morton said women must know how to handle each of these factors before she can turn out a successful wash.

Preparations for washing are just as specialized as the process itself.

Wools and Nylons

The research specialist said:

"It is important to sort garments according to fabric or fiber, and according to degree of soil."

She advised washing woolens, nylons and rayon in warm water to prevent them from fading. She explained:

"The fabrics have soft fibers that will relax quickly and give up their dirt—as well as dye—without undue pressure. It is to preserve the dye—not the fabric—that hot water is used. Shrinkage results from excessive action."

SPARTANBURG, S. C.—(INS)—Wofford College claims to be at the top of all colleges in the nation in percentage of students participating in intramural sports. W. W. Scheerer, professor of physical education disclosed that Wofford has 72 per cent participation in the various competitive games conducted "strictly for fun."

Civil Defense Meeting Called For May 7 And 8

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS)—Civil defense administrator Caldwell today called a national civil defense meeting in Washington for May 7-8 and announced that President Truman will address the conference.

In issuing invitations for the meeting, Caldwell said that more than 1,000 persons, including state governors and leaders of more than 400 national organizations, are expected to attend.

He said that top defense officials also will speak at the conference, which was called to map plans for "educating the public to the need for immediate and complete civil defense preparation."

Caldwell called for a nationwide attack upon public apathy toward civil defense . He declared:

"The greatest and most immediate enemy of the American public is apathy toward its own danger.

"It is obvious to all of us in the defense effort that there is a need for an unprecedented nationwide effort in public education through every stratum of American society to teach the need and means for survival in event of attack.

"The civil leadership of the nation must be mobilized to spearhead this program of education for national survival."

PARKING PROBLEM GETS A BIG LIFT IN SPOKANE

THIS NEW half elevator, half trolley parking structure in Spokane, Wash., is reported to be the first of its kind in use. You drive your car onto a track in the corridor (entrance left) which runs through middle. The electric parker runs the car down the track, elevates it to desired level and deposits the car in the proper empty slot. "Pigeon Hole Parking, Inc." is the firm's name. (International)

REHEARSES CHOIR, SEES DOUBLE: 8 SETS OF TWINS

PRICE CONTROL ORDERS ARE SIGNED

PRICE CONTROL ORDERS affecting some 60 per cent of grocery store food items are signed in Washington by Director Michael V. DiSalle of the Office of Price Stabilization. The new system gives the public lower prices in certain categories but increases others. DiSalle predicts rollbacks will outnumber higher retail costs now allowed. (International)

Protects Airmen

DESIGNED to protect airmen from crash impacts and takeoff and landing jolts, a new safety harness is tried out at Wright-Patterson Air Force base near Dayton, O. Developed at Wright-Patterson especially for paratroopers and combat infantrymen riding in Air Force planes, the harness fits over the wearer and his 150-pound combat pack. It will withstand a crash force of approximately 8,000 pounds. (International)

Largest in History?

GIANT HEN EGG 16 inches in circumference is displayed beside normal size egg in Michigan City, Ind., by Frank Cowgill, a city detective and chicken fancier. The egg was laid by a Rhode Island red owned by poultry farmer William Schlinker, who is sending it to Purdue university for a checkup on his belief it's the largest in history. (International)

NATION'S OLDEST TRIPLETS 83

Her Grandparents Are Good Skates

HASTINGS, Neb.—(INS)—When Linda Kay Cawley, 22 months old, visits with her grandparents she usually takes her roller skates along.

But not because she wouldn't have anything else to do. You see, roller skating is a favorite pastime of the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Whitcomb, and her own parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Cawley.

Grandpa Whitcomb has been skating for 39 years and all four of his daughters became expert roller skaters. So it was only natural that when one of his daughters married she picked a veteran roller skater.

When the three generations of the Whitcomb family get together —you guessed right—they go to a roller skating rink.

Rare Fur-Bearing Seal Is Observed

LOS ANGELES—(INS)—A fur-bearing seal, long considered extinct, has been discovered off the Southern California coast by scientists of the University of California at Los Angeles.

The discovery amazed scientists because the observation was the second made in the 20th century.

Breeding ground of the rare species of fur-bearing seal used to be lonely Guadalupe Island off Baja, California, but over-enthusiastic seal hunters caused the virtual extinction of the once great herds during the 1890's.

The discovery was made during the taking of a sea lion census on San Nicolas Island, nearly 400 miles north of Guadalupe. The seal was a male of about 300 pounds and was in the neighborhood of 5½ feet long.

Dr. George A. Bartholomew, Jr., assistant Zoology Professor, announced:

"Certainly it seems reasonable to assume that somewhere off the coast of California or lower California there exists a small unknown breeding colony of these fur seals. The alternative to such an assumption is that the animal seen on San Nicolas is the lone survivor of the herd reported as being on Guadalupe."

Thomas Edison, said to have been America's most prolific inventor, had more than 1,000 United States patents.

Nurses Are Needed Here In Civil Defense Work

One of the vital needs in the civil defense program is a listed pool of nurses who can be called upon at a moment's notice in case of emergency.

Realizing this, the Pennsylvania State Nurses' Association has joined forces with the Civil Defense Commission of the state and is urging an enrollment of all nurses.

Sister Lawrence Mary, Chairman

In District six, which includes Lawrence county, Sister Mary Lawrence, director of the New Castle Hospital Nurses' school has been named as chairman of the plan and has named Miss Josephine Perrotta, head nurse of the New Castle hospital as co-chairman.

A committee representing all types of nursing has been appointed by Sister Lawrence Mary to aid in the work of enrolling the nurse supply of the county. Miss Margaret Muth, director of nurses for Jameson Memorial hospital represents that institution. Mrs. Louise McConnell, represents the Red Cross. Miss Grace Ackerman represents public health nurses. Miss Helen Wilson represents school nurses, Mrs. Veronica Stone represents industrial nursing, Mrs. Ruth Fox, private duty nursing, and Miss Jennie le Carbo, practical nurses. Mrs. Belinda Pietrandren, director of nurses for Ellwood City hospital represents Ellwood City.

Mrs. Louise Anderson, chairman of civil defense for district six urges that every type of nurse register. This includes registered nurses, undergraduate nurses, practical nurses and all other types.

It is believed there is a large pool of women with nurse training and experience who now are married and have dropped out of active practice. They are urged to enroll.

Sister Mary Lawrence has been in Pittsburgh for several days where she has been undergoing instruction in civil defense type of nursing. When she returns and when the others of the class return to their homes it is hoped to set up short training courses.

At the bottom of this article is a coupon which all nurses are urged to sign and send or take to the offices of the American Red Cross. Nursing is a vital necessity in civil defense. Lawrence county should have a pool of nurses from which to draw when needed.

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK, April 5—(INS)—A novelty manufacturer has just introduced a device for the lady golfer—a kit which gives her most everything she needs sort of talent.

The "Nif-Tee Kit" is a six-inch plastic holder for golf balls, cigarettes, matches, compacts, keys, wallets, coins, tees, pencils and score-cards.

A lipstick can be sneaked in, in a pinch.

The kit, just one-inch in depth, is equipped with two broad belt loops on the back, which hold it snug to the golfer's waist.

Six tees can be fitted into slots on the outside. A pencil and score-card pocket backs up the tee slots. And the body of the kit, zipper closed, holds everything else.

The one-dollar kit comes in red, green or tan with white piping. Like all good plastic accessories it is fade, spot, crack and most everything-else-proof.

Friends here of Newell J. Moore of Sidney, O., will be interested to know that he is celebrating his 80th birthday Friday, April 6.

Miss Maud Siemons of Hubbard spent Monday afternoon with her cousins, Misses Franc and Clara Calderwood. Both are somewhat improved at this writing.

Word has been received here that Leroy Harry arrived at Randolph Field, Tex., ahead of schedule. During his furlough here over Easter he was entertained at a family dinner by Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Harry. He was also feted by Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Harry when they entertained five couples in their home. The evening was spent playing ping pong and taking pictures.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Whiting entertained members of the latter's family at a birthday dinner Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Harry attended a dinner marking the birthday of Ellis Harry on Sunday.

New Probe Is On Horizon

Civil Aeronautics Board Control May Now Be Tightened

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, April 5 — Screams of pain and rage will be heard from the airlines soon when the Senate Commerce Committee begins consideration of a master proposal for tightening Civil Aeronautics Board Control over domestic and overseas air carriers.

Committee Chairman Edwin C. Johnson (D) Colorado, terms the plan an "ambitious program." It calls for authority to compel domestic airlines to fly entirely new routes, to limit the frequency of flights and to curtail types of equipment.

Overseas carriers could be forced to interchange equipment and would have their rates regulated by the board.

The airlines won't accept all this lying down. They have been accustomed to more freedom in the past and undoubtedly will ask for substantial modifications in the master plan.

Sympathy — Senate Democrats have nothing but sympathy for their colleague, Chairman J. W. Fulbright (D) Arkansas, of the Senate group probing "influence" in Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans.

So far it would appear that just about everything he turns up hurts his own party—and if he stops the probe he is certain to be accused of conducting a "whitewash."

Some congressional observers feel the RFC inquiry, which has gone right up to some White House figures, already has done the administration considerable harm with the voters.

They say it has done more damage than the crime probe of Senator Estes Kefauver (D) Tennessee, which is credited with bringing about the 1950 defeat of Senate Majority Leader Scott Lucas, by exposing activities of the Democratic candidate for sheriff in Chicago.

Inflation — Civilians aren't the only ones to feel the pinch on higher prices for clothing. Here are some examples for price increases since January 1 in the armed services:

Navy: standard blue dress jumpers, $6.70 to $16.50; black shoes, $6.40 to $8.50; pea coats, $17.50 to $39.65; blue trousers, $6.30 to $15.

Air Force: wool blouses, $24.04 to $30; overcoats, $26.76 to $35.10; "Ike" jackets, $18.90 to $24.40; black shoes, $4.09 to $8.

Both services, however, have sought to soften the impact on the pocketbook. The Navy has increased its initial and subsequent clothing allowances from $118.35 to $254.75, and the Air Force raised the amount from $179.24 to $230.

Voices from the dead past — Ancient songs recorded by the last of the Chippewa warriors and other Indian tribal leaders nearly a half century ago are being issued by the Library of Congress and are available to the general public.

Librarians say the braves and their squaws made the recordings only after being promised that their voices would be "preserved in Washington in a building that would not burn down."

The collection includes 30 different authentic songs with themes of war, love and hate. All of the singers were at least 70 years of age. Some were much older. A great many spoke virtually no English.

Librarians admit that the collection may have only limited public appeal. But they expect it to be of great interest to scholars, musicians and historians.

The best location for a poultry farm is declared by experts to be within the area of a large community, where prices are maintained at top levels.

New Family From Europe Is Given Welcome To City

The spirit of international friendship is much in evidence in New Castle, with several new families coming here from Europe in the past weeks.

Mrs. Stanley Reese, Welcome Wagon hostess, recently welcomed Mrs. Tony Wassilew who came with her husband and family to New Castle from Munich, Germany. Mrs. Victor Black, who came here from Germany three years ago, acted as interpreter yesterday when the trio visited many of the local merchants and received lovely gifts for Mrs. Wassilew.

Mr. and Mrs. Wassiley have been here since March 23 and are sponsored by the First Baptist church. The young couple and their four year old son, Will Gordon Wassilew, reside at 9 North Front street.

Cannot Tell Story

Mere sentences cannot tell the story which lies behind the lives of those who come here from other countries. Only the persons concerned know the true story of what they have been through the past years, and most of the facts do not want to be recalled. For example, Mrs. Wassiley was born in Russia twenty some years ago, and, like other Russian-Poles, was sent to a German concentration camp during the past war.

It was in Germany that the young woman met her husband. Following their marriage, they lived at the camp in Munich, Germany, until they were certain it was possible to come to the United States. Aside from the gifts they have already received, Mr. Wassilew has the opportunity to work as he knows how, for he now has a job as a welder at the Lockley Machine Shop. Already the couple has "discovered America."

Serve creole shrimp over wide egg noodles sometimes, as a change from rice. A quick way to make the creole sauce for the shrimps is to use canned tomato puree and to season it with onion, green pepper (if on hand), and garlic.

Massed Red Air Attacks May Bring Manchuria Bombing

By JOHN BOOTH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Military sources declare today that Gen. Douglas MacArthur has authority to bomb Manchuria bases if massed Chinese Communist air attacks endanger the security of his command.

The joint chiefs of staff were understood to have formally told MacArthur he has the power to launch UN bombers across the Yalu river if the Red Chinese make massed air attacks with Russian-supplied planes on United Nations forces.

This new development came after Speaker Rayburn (D) Tex., warned the House that "it is my firm belief that we are in greater danger of an expanded war than at any time since the close of the recent war in 1945."

In Terrible Danger

The administration leader asserted after a conference with President Truman:

"I think we stand in the face of terrible danger and maybe the beginning of a third world war."

(MacArthur was reported today in an interview with the London Daily Telegraph to have suggested a blockade of Communist China to reduce its military strength to impotence.

(He was said to feel that the U.N. to eliminate Red China as a military threat had only to carry out a blockade and smash China's tenuous railway system.)

Pentagon information officials, meanwhile, stated that they were unaware of any official order by the joint chiefs of staff to MacArthur on the bombing of Manchurian bases.

Nevertheless, this order would be authorized by the precise terms of the Geneva rules of international warfare. The Geneva convention authorizes one nation to pursue back to their home bases any invading planes which cross a border to attack.

Guards Against Loss Of Coins

CAMDEN, N. J.—Here's good news for premium fo:

A Minneapolis advtising service organization has come up with a new idea for guding against the loss of coins mied with box-tops and soap wrapers, etc.

RCA Victor discloses that the firm, Associate Acities, Inc., is using an RCA electronic metal detector in premium promotions' mail as insurance that no coin escapes the sorters.

The electronic guard is saving the agency many dollars a month, according to RCA.

Corn And Feed Cause Concern

Government Fears Production May Be Short This Year

WASHINGTON, April 5—(INS)—The government is alarmed over the possibility that farmers may not produce enough corn and other feed grains this year to support expanding livestock demands.

Although Secretary Brannan says he is convinced that there will be enough feed grains produced this year to fill all mobilization needs, he has sent teams of trouble-shooters into the corn belt to make sure.

The March 1 survey of farmers planting intentions for this year showed they intend planting only about 85 million acres to corn. That is five million short of the absolute minimum the government figures the nation will need to meet expanded livestock production and other requirements.

Production and marketing administration officials from the Washington headquarters are now in the corn belt preparing an intensive publicity campaign to acquaint farmers of the need for corn and other feed grains this year.

Brannan says the "need to maintain high-level food grain production is too important for us to take any chances. Feed grain is a keystone in the whole agricultural defense effort."

The secretary says that "adequate production of meat and other animal products depends directly on the feed grain supply."

But as to the rest of the farm planting intentions, Brannan feels extremely confident. He says it looks like the south is planning on meeting the 16-million-bale cotton requirement and that prospects for sufficient planting of spring wheat are encouraging.

The Agriculture Department reports that exports of farm machinery—a critical item for farmers this year—were 16.2 percent lower in 1950 than they were in 1949.

The department says that U. S. farm machinery and tractor shipments abroad last year were valued at 350 million dollars, compared with 418 million dollars the year before.

But the department shows that the reduction in exports was not due to farsightedness on the part of shippers who saw the possibility of a tight U. S. machinery supply situation in 1951—but due to shrinking overseas demands.

The office of foreign agricultural relations says that the world's production of dried apples and peaches last year were both the smallest on record and both the same size—12,000 tons.

Dried pear production by the world's leading countries was almost as bad at 2,400 tons, the smallest in 27 years. Dried apricot output fared little better with 26,200 tons, only 16 percent below average.

The flags of the member nations of the United Nations are raised in alphabetical order, starting with Afghanistan.

In The Open

The season is late. While a few venturesome blossoms may be seen in the thickets the wayside program is away behind schedule. In glancing back over my records of other years I find April coming on stage garbed in floral beauty, with bird-song in the trees and the marshes ringing with the music of the frog clans. Not so this year. Furrows are yet to be turned across the hillsides, and where an impatient farmer has taken the bit in his teeth his wet ploughlines shine with that sinister glisten which spells trouble later when he tries to stir up his acres with the harrow.

The April showers crossed up the outdoors schedule maker, and fell almost steadily during the dying days of the late lamented March. But they were on hand as I journeyed out on All-Fools Day to traverse a hillside trail not far from my dooryard. One or two spring peepers, the vanguard of our normal valley complement, piped mightily in the warm rain.

Only a Few Flowers

There were only a few flowers along the path. Here and there an occasional spring beauty had opened one sleepy eye, and farther along I came upon several beautiful clumps of hepatica in full flower. Great greening fronds illumined every weeping willow in the countryside, and the swelling buds gave the elms a roseate halo.

I tramped through the rain while cardinals scolded and frolicsome juncoes flashed through the undergrowth. A Carolina wren posed in a trailside sapling and poured out his resounding roundelay. A cowbird sat in the top of an ancient elm and indulged in the occasional agonizing spilt whistle which always appears about to tear him apart.

There were some profanities in crow talk coming from behind the house when I moseyed in at lunch time. A check revealed four of the black fellows dining on a rabbit which had met an untimely end just over our back fence. They kept one of the gang on a fence post to watch for trouble, while the rest quarreled over the provender.

Finally they all skedaddled across the flat and each took a cold plunge in water-logged depressions which made them natural bath tubs. A sextet of hen pheasants were picking about on this broad flat, paying no attention to the crows. I watched the coverts close by and soon out came the ring-necked lord of the harem. He never shows himself until his demure wives have made certain the coast is clear.

April Is A Therapist

April is a therapist, a healer just as surely as is any man trained in the art of medicine. When trouting time rolls around in mid-April, something more than just another fishing season comes into being. This is the time when the true outdoorsman looks to his favorite haunts with renewed expectation. His anxiety to get away from it all heightens with each passing day. He longs to be taken from the noise of machines, the sight of bricks and mortar and the smells of the city, to places where existence is simplified.

This is a natural yearning. The instinct of the primitive dwells deep in the hearts of all men. To get back to his ancestral days—days of rawhide and muskets and traplines—the countryman goes fishing. And in going fishing he fills his creel to the brim with the sum and substance of a refreshened day. Maybe, if he's lucky, there'll also be a few trout.

Along the trout stream all men's sins are forgotten. The ill-tempered character turns into an altogether different person. The April therapist is at work on him. No matter how dull and dispirited the winter may have left him, meet him in the middle of a big pool somewhere and he will be recreated, shorn of his faults. He may go fishless all day, but he may return home with a creel full of new spirit and better health.

Perhaps, among other things, that's what April is for.

MUSICAL TERMS

TEL AVIV—A dictionary with 1200 musical expressions in Hebrew is expected to be published in Israel. The "Va'ad Halashon" (Hebrew Language Council) originally believed that it might only be necessary to determine some 100-120 musical expressions in the revived Bible language, but experience has shown that many more are needed—even if a number of non-Hebrew (often Italian) words which are internationally used, are admitted into modern Hebrew as well.

William Shakespeare's family records show 42 different spellings of the surname.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Setting the Stage

Three-year-old Maribelle was having a very difficult time pulling on her socks and buttoning up her dress. And when she asked for help, her mother said, "No, you will have to learn to do that yourself."

Our children do need to learn to do things for themselves. Far too often we keep them babies when they could really begin to "do for themselves." But it is important to remember that it's rarely wise to confront a young child with a really difficult task unless one has set the stage.

For it may be very difficult for a two or a three-year-old to pull on socks and button dresses or pants. If we help them to hold the sock in the right position or make certain that buttonholes and buttons are large enough so as to be easily handled by fumbling hands, we are setting the stage.

It's the wise parent who knows when to step in with an encouraging word or a guiding hand. The main object is to help the youngster learn to stand on his own feet. But sometimes the very best way is through being sure that the child doesn't become so exasperated because of the difficulty of the task that he begins to develop a distaste for doing things on his own.

Carpenter Says He's Now Really "Rarin' to Go!"

How bad can things get? After all when your job is carpentry and requires lots of climbing up and down in all kinds of weather, you can't be bogged down, slowed to a walk, by aches and pains. Your job suffers, your interest in life suffers, and you start feeling years older than you are.

When Mr. T. G. Pude Morlan, Rural Route No. 1, Monett, Missouri, ran into just this situation, though, he decided to act fast, get back on the road to feeling right again. He'd heard how HADACOL had helped folks who were suffering aches and pains caused by a lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron and he decided to see what it would do for him. The wonderful results of this decision can only be told properly in Mr. Morlan's own written words, sent to us voluntarily.

He says: "Just a line in regard to HADACOL. I am a carpenter by trade, have worked out in all kinds of weather which lately caused me considerable aches and pains and stiffness. I started taking HADACOL, so today, I am on my eighth bottle and am working every day. I am 58 years old and can climb up and down on my job. I have a good appetite, sleep good at night and I wake up mornings raring to go. I started feeling better when I had taken but 4 bottles. So I intend to go on taking your wonderful product. I have recommended HADACOL to all my friends, and I have four who told me they would give it a trial at once. So, as I am very well known in and around Monett, Missouri, you are welcome to use my name in any way as you choose in regard to your wonderful product."

So the letters go, day after day, from state after state, telling of the real, genuine help that HADACOL has brought to folks like Mr. Morlan. For, you see, HADACOL supplies more than the minimum daily requirements of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron to correct the very cause of aches and pains when due to a lack of these very elements. These elements, plus helpful quantities of Phosphorus and Calcium, are in a special liquid form, already dissolved for quick, easy absorption in the system.

No wonder thousands say that only HADACOL gives you that "Wonderful Hadacol Feeling." Won't you give this wonderful formula a chance to help you, to give you new hope for the future, to stop your being a burden to yourself and to your friends and family? Remember HADACOL is recommended by many doctors and is sold on a strict money-back guarantee. Only $1.25 in the trial size; only $3.50 in the large economy family size.

Three From Here Serving With 306th Engineers In Korea

Three New Castle men, veterans of World War Two, are again serving their country in a capable and efficient manner as members of the 306th Engineers, in Korea.

The unit was organized from Reservists from the Middle Eastern States on August 14, 1950. They trained at Ft. Totton and Ft. Campbell, Ky., and after a brief and intensive training period embarked for Japan, from whence they were sent to join the 8th Army, in Korea.

Sgt. Victor J. Augustin, is mess sergeant of the unit; Col. Richard J. Bartberger, is a heavy duty operator and instructor; and Pfc. Thomas D. Cubellis, is jeep driver for the platoon officer.

Their principal job is hauling men and supplies to essential areas.

Business Education Conference Planned.

Several district educators will appear on the program at the meeting of the Pennsylvania Business Education Association to be held in Butler April 14 at the Butler high school. Registration opens at 9 a. m. with the first session opening at 9:30.

MANY DOCTORS REQUEST PROFESSIONAL SAMPLES OF HADACOL

(A Vitamin and Mineral Formula)

Many Doctors Recommend HADACOL to Patients For Aches and Pains Resulting From Deficiencies Of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron

The growing familiarity of Physicians with the great modern formula, HADACOL, is resulting in many of them requesting that professional samples be sent to their offices. The record shows that hundreds of Doctors recommend the HADACOL formula to their patients.

If your life has been made miserable by aches and pains—if you suffer from indigestion, gas, heartburn—if you are pale, have no appetite, find it difficult to sleep and are irritable or nervous—if you complain of listlessness or a general run-down condition—if you are tormented by these ailments and your sickness is due to deficiencies of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron, then you should take HADACOL.

You see, HADACOL doesn't give just symptomatic relief. It goes right to the basis of your troubles and relieves the real cause of these complaints by overcoming such deficiencies. HADACOL can start you on the road to feeling better, often within a few days' time. And, if you take this fine family formula regularly, it helps prevent these deficiency-caused ailments from returning.

YOU'LL FEEL GREAT—OR YOUR MONEY BACK*

*Ask your Druggist for a bottle of HADACOL today and look forward to a brighter tomorrow. Trial size bottle, only $1.19. Large family economy size, $3.39. You'll feel great with the first few bottles you take, or your money back.

Thousands of Letters Pour In From All Over America Telling About Splendid Results Secured From Use of HADACOL!

Read what HADACOL is doing in conditions which may be due to deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron.

Mrs. Robert E. Lee, 1208 Enid St., Houston, Texas, is a housewife and mother who also works for a large department store. She says: "I was weak, tired and run-down. I'd felt that way for quite some time. I had no energy. I heard about HADACOL and took 3 large bottles. Now I feel just wonderful. I have plenty of energy and strength and I never get tired any more. I think HADACOL is wonderful."

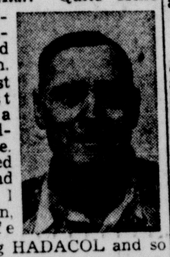
Joseph N. Damillot, 3414 E. 5th Street, Dayton, Ohio: "My first bottle of HADACOL convinced me that HADACOL was what I needed for the gas on my stomach at nights. I could not keep food on my stomach, but after the first bottle I was going great. Now I eat bacon and eggs, and other foods that never would stay with me. I also can sleep well at nights. Thanks to HADACOL. I will never be without it, and can recommend it to all who suffer with the above ailments that I had. I know because I have suffered for quite some time."

Mrs. Flavia C. Kaufman, 2436 70th Ave., Baton Rouge, Louisiana: "I have been taking HADACOL for over a year. Before I started taking HADACOL, I was terribly nervous and upset all the time. I was underweight and just couldn't eat at all. My appetite was so lax that I ate irregularly at all hours of the day. Then I started taking HADACOL. After the third bottle I felt 100% better. I have gained weight, my appetite is tremendous and, best of all, I sleep well nights and my nerves are steady as can be. HADACOL is a very wonderful product. I just can't praise HADACOL enough."

Sara Loraine Beck, Box 253, Coker, Alabama: "I was run-down, sick and skinny, and weighed only 90 pounds before I used HADACOL. I would not eat because I had no appetite. Now I weigh 123 pounds and have an appetite. I feel a lot better. I have been taking HADACOL 10 months and am still taking it. I am 15 years old. HADACOL has done me lots of good."

W. L. Denman, 1104 Enid St., Houston, Texas: "I had been bothered with aches and pains for some time; seemed to be getting worse. It began to show in my work, too—I just didn't feel up to my job. I'm a paperhanger and the aches and pains nagged me so that I couldn't do a good day's work. I read about HADACOL and started taking it. After the second bottle I began to feel better. Today I feel fine. I do a full day's work without a bit of trouble. I'm really sold on HADACOL. It's wonderful."

G. E. Moncus, 221 Columbus St., Montgomery, Ala.: "Quite some time ago I began to have indigestion and sour stomach. My food just didn't digest right. I'd get a full, 'gassy' feeling after I ate. This affected my appetite and my weight. I was run-down, too. My wife started taking HADACOL and so did my daughter. I saw how much it had helped them, so I started taking it. And HADACOL has certainly helped me, too. My stomach never bothers me any more. I have a terrific appetite. I have lots of pep and energy and just feel good in every way. I wish I could tell everyone how wonderful it really is."



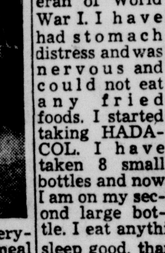
Dan Goldsmith, 3024 Currun Road, Louisville, Ky.: "Before I started taking HADACOL I was run-down and nervous—and had a hard time sleeping nights. With my work in the store I have to spend sometimes 14 hours a day on my feet. Since I am in the retail business, I saw how many folks were asking for HADACOL, so I decided to try it myself. After the first couple of bottles I could tell a definite improvement. Now I have all the pep and energy in the world, my nerves are steady as ever and I really do get a good night's rest—HADACOL is wonderful—I not only take it, but recommend it to all my customers. I praise the day Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc put HADACOL on the market."

Mrs. Jennie Lee Adele, 412 N. 27 St., East St. Louis, Ill.: "I have been a nurse for over fourteen years. My food never seemed to agree with me. I heard one day how so many folks were being helped because of HADACOL. I tried it and after 3 bottles I could tell a big improvement. Now I eat anything I want—sleep well and am full of energy."

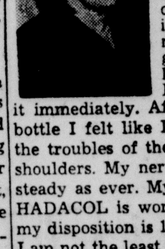
James D. Singletery, 236 Oak St., Louisville, Ky.: "Before I started taking HADACOL there wasn't a person in the world who could get along with me—seemed like the least little thing would upset me. I was tired all the time and it really affected my work. I had a hard time sleeping—just roll and toss and cat-nap all night long. I didn't eat properly either. Then one day I heard how other folks with the same troubles I had were being helped by HADACOL. I tried it and noticed an improvement after the first couple of bottles. Now I feel good."

Delmar B. Callaway, Box 151, Church Point, Louisiana: "I am 13 years old and I am in the 8th grade in the Church Point High School. Last summer I didn't have a bit of energy. I didn't want to ride my bike and I didn't want to play baseball. Mother tried everything to get me to eat a good meal—but I just didn't feel like eating. Food just didn't taste good and lots of times food would upset my stomach when I did eat. Mother says I was underweight for my age. Then mother started giving me HADACOL. I know that in just a little while I started feeling a whole lot better. Now I am center on the football team. I like baseball and basketball, and I ride my bike every evening after school. Mother says she has never seen anyone with such a huge appetite. I like to take HADACOL. Mother says she is never going to let me be without HADACOL."

Mrs. A. L. Bush, 429 S. W. 19th Road, Miami, Fla.: "I am 45 years old, and had been suffering from aches for some time. But, now, I have used HADACOL for three months, and am happy that I feel so fine."



Leo D. Fisher, 901 Charles Street, St. Joseph, Missouri: "I am a veteran of World War I. I have had stomach distress and was nervous and could not eat any fried foods. I started taking HADACOL. I have taken 8 small bottles and now I am on my second large bottle. I eat anything. I feel fine and sleep good, thanks to HADACOL. I have recommended HADACOL to many people and they are taking it. I am a booster, for I cannot do without it."



Mrs. J. P. Macaure, 408 Radiance St., New Orleans, La.: "I have taken at least 5 bottles of HADACOL. Before I took HADACOL, I was very nervous. My family was affected, too, because I was so irritable. Then my sister suggested I take HADACOL and I started taking it immediately. After the second bottle I felt like I had taken all the troubles of the world off my shoulders. My nerves are now as steady as ever. My family thinks HADACOL is wonderful because my disposition is 100% better and I am not the least irritable. That's because I always have a bottle of HADACOL on the kitchen shelf. HADACOL is the most wonderful product on the market."

Mrs. Emil Anderson, 3632 Wabash, Detroit, Mich.: "I have had aches and pains . . . I know a person couldn't have felt as miserable as I did. Then, while visiting my son and his wife in Morton-Gap, Ky., he told me how his mother-in-law had been helped so much by HADACOL. I brought HADACOL all the way home to Detroit with me. I could tell a big difference after the second bottle. So far, I have taken 6 or 7 bottles of HADACOL. What a wonderful change has taken place—there is hardly an ache or pain in my whole body. Yes, HADACOL is wonderful—and you can bet your life I will never stop taking HADACOL."

Mrs. Zina Lee Bowman, Route 6, Cleos Ferry Road, Nashville, Tenn.: "I was so weak I could hardly do my housework. I am 30 years old. I am the mother of 9 children. I was so nervous I hardly wanted the children to speak. I had to rest after I got breakfast and before I cleaned my house. I have taken almost 4 bottles of HADACOL, and I feel fine. The children can make all the noise they wish and it doesn't bother me. In fact, I join them in their ball games and other games. We are a happy family, thanks to HADACOL."

Mrs. R. H. Holder, 221 Columbus, Montgomery, Alabama, is the mother of two children and has two grandchildren. This young grandmother works as an inspector at a glass company in Montgomery. She says: "I was nervous and run-down and I had lost weight and had no appetite—food just didn't interest me. I had aches and pains. I felt miserable. My mother started taking HADACOL and it did her so much good that I decided to give it a try. After the first bottle I noticed an improvement. I have now taken six bottles and feel grand. I am no longer nervous or run-down. I have loads of energy. I have a big appetite and have regained the weight I had lost. No more aches or pains either. Today I feel wonderful, just wonderful, and I owe it to HADACOL for it has done so much for me. I just can't praise it enough."

Mrs. Aaron Owens, 904 Herron St., Montgomery, Alabama: "I was nervous and run-down and had no energy or appetite. I couldn't sleep and had aches and pains. I am a housewife and pretty soon I got to where I didn't feel up to doing my work. I heard about HADACOL on the radio and began taking it. With the first bottle I began to feel better. I have now taken about 17 bottles, and I can truthfully say it has helped me a lot. I am no longer nervous or run-down and have plenty of energy. My appetite is excellent. I rest soundly at night. My aches and pains are gone. Another thing, too, that had bothered me before taking HADACOL was indigestion and sour stomach. I had a full, 'gassy' feeling. My stomach would bloat and I lost some weight. But HADACOL helped all this, too. Now I am not troubled by indigestion or sour stomach. I think HADACOL is wonderful."

Says Pittsburgh Industry Target For Infiltration

PITTSBURGH, April 5.—(INS)—Former undercover agent for the FBI Matt Cvetic said yesterday that Pittsburgh district basic industry plants are top priority for infiltration by communists.

Cvetic, testifying in the sedition trial of three Pittsburgh communists, said that Steve Nelson, one of the defendants and western Pennsylvania communist leader, was sent to Pittsburgh to supervise the infiltration job.

The other defendants are Andrew Onda, communist organizer in the steel industry, and James Dolsen, correspondent for the Daily Worker.

Waddell Class Has Tea Party

Methodist S.S. Group Hears Book Review

Members of the Waddell Bible class of Mahoning Methodist church met on Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the church dining room for a tea party with about 80 persons present. The invocation was given by Mrs. J. A. Waddell.

Following the repast Mrs. O. C. Mauck, the vice-president, introduced the speaker of the evening, Mrs. Chester Dean, who gave a talk reviewing the book entitled, "God and the Groceryman."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Mauck, Mrs. W. O. Shaw, and Mrs. William Jolley.

Berean Class Meets With Mrs. Erma Seamons

Members of the Berean Bible class of Madison Avenue Christian church were entertained on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Erma Seamons, of 610 East Washington street, with a good attendance. Mrs. Howard L. Krause conducted the devotional exercises.

Mrs. Russell McConnell was in charge of the business session, and also led in the Bible quiz.

There were several special guests, Mrs. June Stevenson, Connie, Joseph, Jr., and Janet Stevenson.

A tasty lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. B. Moore and Mrs. Sally Deegan.

Next meeting of the group will be Tuesday, May 8, at the home of Mrs. Howard L. Krause, 613 North Cedar street, with Mrs. Loretta Winkler and Mrs. C. E. Amon as co-hostesses.

Soldier Son Recalled To Special Service

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Hall, Sr., of 24 North Cedar street, that their son, Sgt. M. C. Hall, Jr., now residing in Arlington, Va., has been recalled to the service, and is home visiting with his wife and son, Barry in Arlington.

Marion will report to the Pentagon Building, in Washington, D. C., at the conclusion of his leave. He served for three years with the Air Force in World War II. Following the expiration of his leave, his tentative assignment will be with the 1131 Special Activity Squadron. Sgt. Hall was listed in the Reserves as a photographer, and has been in the employ of the Defense Department.

Ward Sewing And Social Club Meets

In St. Maragret's hall, members of St. Margaret Sewing and Social club had their meeting recently.

Sewing crochet work was done, which was followed by a period of playing Monticarlo and Canasta, prizes being captured by Mrs. Jennie Rainey, Mrs. Julia Rozzi; also for Canasta, Mrs. Florence Perrine and Mrs. Charlotte Moore. The door prize was won by Mrs. Doris Masters.

A tasty lunch was served by the social committee, Mrs. Rose Mash, Mrs. Margaret Thomas, Mrs. Mary Funera. Special guest was Mrs. Marie Ascione.

Plans for a Mother's Day dinner were made, with Mrs. Mary Lombardo chairlady. Secret pals exchange were a hanky and an apron.

Social committee for the meeting of April 16 will be Mrs. Rose Rotunno, Mrs. Jennie Rainey, and Mrs. Rose Zarilla.

Men's Meeting Friday At Methodist Church

At Mahoning Methodist church, on Friday evening, at 6:30 o'clock, the Mahoning men will meet for a dinner, in the dining room of the church, to organize as a permanent group of men of the church.

The speaker of the evening will be Rev. Charles Hagadorn, of Chautauqua, N. Y., a former pastor of Mahoning church.

As part of the evening program, the Mahoning Male Quartet will give a number of selections. Men of the community and of the church are invited to attend, but reservations should be made at the church office.

Friendship Circle To Have Memorial Service

On Monday evening, April 9, the Friendship Circle of Mt. Jackson U. P. church wil be entertained in the home of Mrs. Wylie Craig of Mt. Jackson-Edenburg road, with Mrs. Mary Warder as co-hostess.

It is expected there will be a full attendance, as there will be a Memorial Service in honor of the late Mrs. Joseph Gilmore, to be conducted by Mrs. James Crawford.

Seventh Ward Notes

Mrs. Agnes Cochran and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wigley, of R. D. 7, Mahoningtown; and Mrs. Richard Morgan and daughter, Sally Jean, of South Beaver street ext., have returned from Pittsburgh, where they visited with Mrs. Morgan's mother, Mrs. Amelia Stickle.

Sgt. McClelland Wounded In Korea

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Myrl F. McClelland of 806 Lathrop street, stating that their son, Sgt. James F. McClelland, has been wounded in the fighting in Korea.

Sgt. McClelland was wounded while attempting to bring one of his men to safety after the latter had been wounded, and is now recovering in an army hospital in Korea. The incident happened on March 9, and he wrote his parents immediately, telling about the circumstances.

Now 22 years of age, Sgt. McClelland has been in the army for five years and has been in Korea since the outbreak of hostilities there. He is a member of the 17th regiment of the 7th Division. After serving his initial three-year enlistment period he re-enlisted and has been overseas for two years.

He was one of a patrol of seven men who reached the Manchurian border around Christmas time, and was lost for six days when the Reds started their offensive from that point.

Stars Of Golfing World Start Play In Masters Tournament

Jimmy Demaret Defending Title On Augusta Course

By JOHN R. HENRY
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NATIONAL GOLF CLUB, AUGUSTA, Ga., April 5.—Record scoring for the tricky 6,700-yard National Golf Club layout seemed likely today as the best men in the business tee off in the 15th renewal of the Masters Tournament.

Big Jim Ferrier loomed as a top favorite to win the $10,000 medal play money, but two mighty Texans with dynamite in their clubs may keep him from being the first foreign-born star to carry off the coveted masters title.

Hogan Entered

Defending champion Jimmy Demaret of Houston and bantam Ben Hogan of Fort Worth, also were established as definite co-favorites in the gruelling four days and 72 holes of classic golf.

The old grand slam champion, Bobby Jones, came up with the idea that somebody in the record entry list of 64 will smash existing marks. He said:

"We have become accustomed to the spectacular in the masters and I wouldn't be surprised to see a new tournament record this year."

Demaret Confident

He meant that a guy with magic in every shot must come through with something better than the 279 carded by Ralph Guldahl and tied by Claude Harmon.

Demaret, who said he felt more confident than ever before in a masters meet, described the course as "no tougher than usual," but added that slower greens may help scores.

Other golfers noticed that many rough areas have been cleared, which was considered another pointer in the 1951 scoring, as was the prediction for fair and warmer weather throughout the tournament.

Low mark for the par-72 layout is the 64 that Chicago's Lloyd Mangrum carded in 1940.

Mangrum, a consistent performer in the masters, is back again along with other such standouts as slammin' Sammy Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., who took the crown in 1949.

The workman named Ferrier, from San Francisco by way of Australia, was regarded generally, however, as "the hottest man in the field." Big Jim has finished first three times and second twice in his last five tournament outings to pace the pro flock in top money winnings.

Ferrier pocketed $10,729.16 before the masters opened with Mangrum chasing in to the tune of $10,611.13.

Knickerbockers Enter Finals

Defeat Syracuse By Score, 83-81

NEW YORK, April 5.—(INS)—The New York Knickerbockers will compete in their first National Basketball Association final in their five-year history Saturday night when they meet the Rochester Royals for the league championship in the first of a best-of-seven series.

The Knicks got into the finals last night when they stormed from behind to defeat the Syracuse Nationals, 83 to 81, before a standing room crowd of 5,300 fans at New York's 69th Regiment Armory.

The victory in the fifth and deciding game of the Eastern Division semi-finals was achieved when the Knicks overcame a 12-point deficit in the final ten minutes.

Max Zaslofsky scored 11 of his game total of 19 points during this late surge by the New Yorkers.

The Royals, who won the Western Division title by eliminating Minneapolis, will play host to the Knicks Saturday and Sunday nights in the first two games of the finals.

PHILADELPHIA, April 5.—(INS)—Center Charles (Chuck) Bednarik, former Penn grid star, today became the eighth veteran to sign a 1951 contract with the Philadelphia Eagles. It will be his third season with the birds.

County All-Stars Down City, 42-39

Lawrence County Basketball Officials captured the rubber game of their three-game series with the county Coaches 48-47 Wednesday evening at Bessemer in the second game of a doubleheader.

In the opening game of the card the County All-Stars defeated the New Castle All-Stars 42-39.

Both games were close and were not decided until the final minutes of play. The Officials overcame a four-point lead in the last two minutes of play and succeeded in freezing the ball for almost the final minute in edging the Coaches.

John "Rags" Gennock paced the Officials' attack with 20 points, but gave way to Soc Roussos of the Coaches for top scoring honors. Roussos was hitting on his left-handed hook shot and piled up 23 points.

Twenty-five players saw action in the County-City all-star game, which went to the county team.

Mickey Mantle Will Face Re-Exam By Draft Board

EL PASO, Tex., April 5.—(INS)—Mickey Mantle, phenomenal New York Yankee rookie outfielder, has been ordered to report to his Miami, Okla., draft board next Wednesday, presumably for a physical re-examination.

He had previously been classified 4-F because of a bone condition in his left ankle.

Yankee manager Casey Stengel said that in any event he will carry the hard-hitting 19-year-old on the varsity roster at least until April 10.

Fees Baseball Session Called

Fee's baseball team of the City League will meet at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at 1242 West State street, according to Business Manager Andrew J. Cline. All former members are urged to be present. Affairs pertinent to the team will be discussed.

Rod And Gun Club Of Castlewood To Hold Crow Shoot

Castlewood Rod and Gun club will hold a crow shoot, Monday evening, April 9. All members who wish to take part are requested to meet at the fire hall at 4 o'clock, and are reminded to be sure and bring hunting licences, guns and shells.

Ken Raffensberger Blanks Washington Senators 3 To 0

(By International News Service)

Cincinnati's Ken Raffensberger, who will be 34 years old on his next birthday, apparently still has plenty of games left in his aging pitching arm.

The craft lefthander became the first Cincy hurler to go the route this spring and he did it in commendable style Wednesday when he blanked the Washington Senators, 3 to 0, with a five-hitter.

Raffensberger was aided by the Redlegs' batting terror, big Ted Kluszewski. The muscular first baseman drove in all his team's runs wtih a bases-loaded double in the third inning.

Mickey Mantle, who has been ordered to undergo a re-examination by his draft board in Miami, Okla., next Wednesday, paced the New York Yankees to a 16 to 10 triumph over El Paso of the Texas league. The 19-year-old rookie "phenom" bashed out three hits, including a homer, to boost his average to .462.

The Brooklyn Dodgers scored three runs in the bottom half of the eleventh inning to down the Philadelphia Phillies, 5 to 4, in a night game.

In other contests, the Chicago Cubs beat Houston, 7 to 4, the Boston Braves and New York Giants battled to an eight-inning, 5 to 5 tie; the Chicago White Sox edged the Pittsburgh Pirates, 9 to 8; Jacksonville scored a 9 to 8 decision over the Boston Red Sox and the Philadelphia A's beat Birmingham, 6 to 5.

North County Loop Will Meet Friday

North County Baseball League will hold an important meeting Friday night, April 6, at 8 o'clock at the New Wilmington fire house, it is announced by Secretary Ivan Young.

Rules for the 1951 season will be formulated at the meeting. All teams seeking franchises in the league should be represented at this meeting.

Ecclesian Club Wins In Sharon Club Tournament

Ecclesian Club pushed aside a Kent, Ohio, squad in a first-round game of Sharon Buhl Club Junior Tournament last night at Sharon, 59-47.

After spotting the Kent team a six-point first period lead, the Eccs stormed back to outscore the Ohians in each of the last three quarters.

Big Paul Bucker led the locals in scoring and was given considerable backing by Joe Pazak, who entered the game as a substitute and threw in enough field goals to halt an early game Ecclesian slump.

The Ecclesian squad returns to Sharon tonight to play a Natrona Heights team at 6:45.

Six Teams Seek Entry In City Softball League

At the city softball league meeting last night in the YMCA six teams requested entry in what is hoped will eventually be an eight-team league.

President Rocco Viggiano again plans to open the league May 1, and asks managers who wish to enter teams in the league to attend the next meeting.

Teams will begin practice as soon as the weather breaks.

PHILADELPHIA, April 5. — (INS) — Lester Felton, Detroit welterweight, is favored to defeat Bobby Lee, of Baltimore, in a 10-round fistic feature at the Met in Philadelphia tonight.

Al Simmons Denies Rumor About Quitting Indians

HOUSTON, Tex., April 5.—(INS)—The future of Cleveland Indians' coach Al Simmons remained uncertain today in the face of his denials that he has quit the team because of ill health.

Shortly after his resignation as third base coach was announced yesterday he denied he was thru with the team.

"I didn't resign," he said in Tucson before the Indians left for Houston, Tex., "I only asked permission for a leave of absence to see my personal physician.

"I am a sick man. I thought if I felt better later on I could rejoin the club in Cleveland."

Surprise To Lopez

His statement came as a complete surprise to manager Al Lopez who said Simmons turned down a suggestion to take a leave of absence to see his doctor.

"I can't understand it," Lopez said. "We sat and talked for hours. He was nearly in tears. He said: 'Al, I can't take it any longer. I'm quitting.'

"He said he decided to quit and have a complete physical exaxination. He didn't say anything about coming back," Lopez said.

Simmons, one of the great hitters of the game, joined the Indians last year. He suffered several spells of illness in training camp this spring.

Meeting Tonight At New Bedford

Sportsmen and land-owners residing in New Bedford district are urged to attend a meeting which will be held in the New Bedford town hall at 8 p.m. tonight to join and support the conservation club which was recently organized. The constitution of the organization has been drafted, will be voted upon, and memberships accepted, acccording to President R. L. Zedaker and Secretary George Lapin.

QUESTIONS

1—Which race track is called "The Track of Tomorrow" and "The Track by the Sea"?

2—Do the win, place and show odds in betting have any bearing on the daily double payoff?

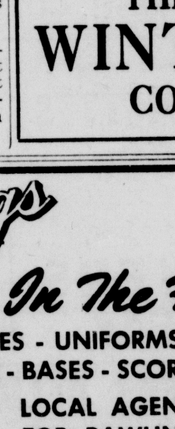
HOOHEE?



I WAS born in 1910 and I started to play golf when I was 15. I caddied at the Little Rock, Ark., Country club and won the state amateur title as a left-hander. I turned pro in 1930 and switched to righthanded. I have been a top-flight pro ever since.

ANSWERS

(Hoohee: E. J. (Dutch) Harrison)
1—Gulfstream Park, Hallandale, Fla.
2—No, the daily double is a separate pool.
3—Gordon Richards of England.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

TOM McMAHON, former New Castle heavyweight, now a resident of Cleveland, writes Here and There that Dick Kroesen, who left New Castle while yet a boy, has been elected president of the Cleveland Sports Arena, succeeding Bernard Rand. Kroesen operates a sports goods company. . . . "If you want to catch Rainbows, fish the fast waters" is the caption of a story by Raymond R. Camp in April 6 Collier's which is very pleasant reading. . . . William & Mary outgolfed Cornell, 21-9. . . . There are 10 Pennsylvanians on the W&M grid squad. This should be some sort of a record. . . . Satchel Paige, former Indian pitcher, and the all-time National Negro league star, says Cleveland didn't release him because he was "through" but because they didn't want to pay him what Paige believed he was worth. He expects to net $25,000, pitching as a barnstormer this season. Paige denies he is older than 42. . . . Twenty-five pilots have entered the Indianapolis 500-mile speed event, which may produce some injuries, and possibly some fatalities Memorial Day. . . . Del Porter, long interested in and connected with outdoors organizations here, is booming the Lawrence County Sportsman's Association banquet April 12 in the Cathedral, at which Dick Costley, supervisor of the Allegheny National forest, will be the principal spokesman.

LOS ANGELES Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals today confirmed reports that the case of Your Host, crippled 4-year-old racing star, has created a furor. Alexander Tilley, general manager of the society, said: "We have had many phone calls and letters about Your Host. Many want to have the horse put out of his misery, and it seems just as may are against his destruction." Your Host won $387,795 before suffering a fractured right foreleg during the running of the San Pasqual handicap at Santa Anita last January 13. The horse became the property of Lloyd's of London upon payment of a $250,000 insurance policy to movie executive William Goetz, the owner, last week. . . . Ellis (Cot) Deal, who posted a 10-14 record with Columbus as a pitcher last year, has asked Manager Harry Walker for a chance in the outfield. Deal played in the garden in the Puerto Rican league the past winter and hit approximately .350. . . . Human vendors have been replaced by vending machines at the San Diego (Pacific Coast) park as an experiment by the Padres. . . . Jim Bagby, former American league hurler, will pitch for a former Red Sox teammate this season, having signed to hurl for Tampa (Florida International), which is managed by Ben Chapman, who was with Jim on the Boston club in 1938. . . . Don Herman, 20-year-old son of Pirate Coach Babe Herman, suffered broken upper and lower jaws and the loss of seven teeth in a freak accident in a workout with the University of Southern California team. Herman, a promising outfielder with the Trojans, was standing near the batting cage when struck by a flying bat from a teammate. He will be lost to the Southern Cal team for the remainder of the season.

Phillies Owner Lays Down Law

'Whiz Kids' Must Conserve Energy

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 5.—(INS)—The National league champion Phillies will make all their "personal appearances" on the ball field this season.

Owner Bob Carpenter and Manager Eddie Sawyer have notified the Whiz Kids that all other "in person" acts—speech-making, radio and television appearances, etc.—are taboo this year.

Said Sawyer in explaining the restriction:

"We're a big league ball club intent upon the important business of winning a second pennant against determined opposition.

"It isn't that our fellows are high-hat or throwing their weight around. It's a matter of having a tough job on our hands playing baseball."

Suffered Letdown

Carpenter and Sawyer believe the "sideshow" of TV and radio appearances, luncheon and dinner speeches, and advertising tie-ins by many of the Phils last season contributed to the late-season letdown which nearly cost the Whizzers the flag.

A spokesman for the club pointed out that in the stretch drive in 1950 when the players were "dog tired" and needed rest, prior commitments compelled them to appear in public.

White Sox Edge Pirates, 9 To 8

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 5.—(INS)—A tenth inning rally gave the Chicago White Sox a 9-8 victory over the Pirates at New Orleans yesterday.

Harry Fisher pitched until the Bucs lost their 8-5 margin in the ninth as the White Sox tied the score. Jim Walsh, who relieved, was credited wtih the loss when the Chicago team scored a run in the tenth.

Bow And Arrow Proposal Made

HARRISBURG, April 5.—(INS)—A proposal to throw open all of Pennsylvania to bow and arrow marksmen in search of deer was advanced today in a bill co-sponsored by Senators James F. Berger (R) Potter, and Frank W. Ruth (D) Berks.

The Game Commission would be empowered to authorize such hunting during the regular season or a special period, according to the sponsors. Archery hunting permits would cost $2.

Umpires Association Will Meet Friday

Lawrence County Umpires Association will meet Friday, April 6, at 8 o'clock at the Y.M.C.A., it is announced by Joseph Panella, secretary.

The charter is open for any person or persons interested in becoming a member, it is reported.

Phils' Bonus Babe

TOM CASAGRANDE, former star Fordham university pitcher, is a $40,000 bonus player trying to make good in Philadelphia Nationals' training camp at Clearwater, Fla. (International)

Oakland Sportsmen Rearing Pheasants

Oakland Sportsman's club is rearing 750 pheasant chicks and at their meeting last night went on record as favoring the Game Commission's pheasant nest program which provides one dollar payment for each nest located and saved from destruction by farming operations. The Oakland club is offering an additional dollar to go with the state's dollar for each nest found within the county and reported to Game Warden Cal Hooper.

The pheasant rearing program of the club was explained by Andy Conti. John Kraynak, public relations agent of the Sportsman's Council and Game Warden Hooper addressed club members. Hooper reported 3,100 pheasant chicks are being reared.

Conti reported 78 pheasant chick which had been reared by the club were released in approved areas of the county.

Sugar Ray To Battle Mims

10-Round Non-Title Bout In Miami, Fla.

MIAMI, Fla., April 5.—(INS)—Middleweight Champion Sugar Ray Robinson and rough-and-tumble Holly Mims meet tonight at Miami in a 10-round non-title bout.

Robinson's 23-year-old opponent from Washington, D. C., disclosed yesterday that he was approached by a person whom he quoted as saying "You're supposed to go down in three."

Seeks Protection

The co-manager of the rugged Mims has insisted his fighter be given full police protection, and has asked for the right to inspect Robinson's hands before they are taped.

The manager, George Johnson, added he was sure that Robinson and his trainers knew nothing of the attempt to "intimidate my fighter."

If Mims does go down at any time under a barrage from the lethal fists that recently lifted the crown from Jake LaMotta, it will be his first trip to the canvas in 52 professional fights.

Globetrotters Top Collegians

PHILADELPHIA, April 5.—(INS)—The Harlem Globetrotters led the College All-American basketball team by three games to one today in their 18-game series.

Harlem's famed court clowns defeated the All-Americans, 76-75, before a crowd of 6,133 at the Philadelphia Arena last night.

Reece (Goose) Tatum paced the trotters with 18 points, while Don Sunderlaage, former Illinois ace, topped the college stars with 16.

DeCarbo Bombers To Meet Friday

DeCarbo Bombers will meet on Friday, April 6, at the Calabro hall on Division street at 8 p. m.

At the last meeting, this year's softball activities were discussed and four nominations for manager were received.

Friday, team members will elect a manager from the four nominees.

All players wishing a tryout for the DeCarbos are requested to be present at the meeting.

Vander Meer Fired

FOUND sunning himself after being ordered to run several conditioning laps at the Chicago Cubs' training camp at Phoenix, Ariz., Johnny (No-Hit) Vander Meer (above) is released unconditionally by Manager Frankie Frisch. Vandy pitched consecutive no-hitters for Cincinnati against the Boston Braves and Brooklyn Dodgers in 1938. (International)

Hornets Meet Bears Tonight

Victory Tonight Assures Finals

(By International News Service)

The Pittsburgh Hornets will go all out tonight to knock the Hershey Bears out of the American Hockey League playoffs and land in the finals against the Cleveland Barons for the Calder cup trophy.

The Hornets, who barely made the playoffs by two ten-thousandths of a percentage point over St. Louis plus a league decision in a battle over eligbilty of a player, have been the standouts of the playoffs.

One of the best defensive clubs in the circuit, the Hornets turned on the power to blast Springfield in three straight games and take two against Hershey. A Pittsburgh victory tonight will pace the Hornets in a best of seven series against the Barons, starting Saturday in Cleveland.

The finals will start no later than April 12, no matter how long the Pittsburgh-Hershey series lasts. The season could end any time from April 14 to the 28th of the month.

Fear Seven Lost In Plane Crash

EL PASO, Tex., April 5—(INS)—Biggs air force officials reported today that a C-47 carrying "at least seven airmen" had crashed east of Las Cruces, N.M., in the Organ mountains.

An air rescue party left immediately for the reported scene, believed in the White Sands proving area.

The C-47 left El Paso early today from the International airport for Kirtland air force base, Albuquerque, N.M., its home base.

Andrew Robinson, Gloucester, Mass., built the first schooner made in America, in 1713.

New York Stocks

Stock Market Turns Strong

NEW YORK, April 5.—(INS)—The stock market turned in its strongest performance today since mid-March. Gains ranged from fractions to 2 points with rail issues pacing the advance.

Heavy buying orders poured into many key issues at the start on the heels of the last minute run-up which took place yesterday. Large blocks of stock, ranging to 5,000 shares in New York Central, changed hands, with the ticker falling behind for a brief period.

Among the big gainers in the rails were Denver & Rio Grande up 2 at 59, Union Pacific up 1½ at 101½, Illinois Central up 1 at 63, Delaware & Hudson up 1¾ at 47¾ and Southern Railway up 1 at 53¾.

American Can was outstanding among the industrials with a rise of 1⅝ to 111. General Motors, Allied Chemical and Bethlehem Steel were up fractionally.

Standard of New Jersey was up ⅝ to 103½ in the oils and American Smelting gained ½ at 72¼ in the metals.

Rail isssues were strong in a generally higher bond market.

Cotton rallied sharply after an early slump to show gains up to $1.60 a bale. Wheat and corn ruled firm.

YW Classes To Have Program

Dinner Arranged For April 12 Marking Close Of Semester

A planning committee composed of representatives from classes in the YWCA has scheduled the evening of Thursday, April 12, for a covered dish supper and program to celebrate the close of the spring semester. Supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock.

The interesting program which is planned will be shared by all the classes. The two sewing classes under the guidance of Mrs. Robert DuPont their instructor, will present a style show, modeling dresses, skirts and blouses from the beginners class, suits from the suitmakers' class. R. H. Boak along with his photo hobbyists plan a fine exhibit of pictures and will show a movie techniques and composition of which will be pointed out as the film progresses.

To Conduct Quiz

Also, Robert Tomal, instructor in auto mechanics will conduct an "Auto Quiz" with members of his class answering the questions.

For the supper each group will bring sufficient meat, potatoes, salad and cake for their own group, but all food will be placed together on a buffet table.

Many of the men and women in the classes plan to bring their husbands and wives while single persons may bring escorts. Mrs. Robert DuPont will be MC.

Honor guests at the occasion will be Mrs. James W. Moorehead, president of the YWCA and Miss Marion Campbell, chairman of All-Association Program.

On the planning committee are Mr. Paul Hosler and Mrs. Paul J. Kozma, auto mechanics class; Miss Lydia Joseph and Mr. Francis Leslie, photo hobbyists; Mrs. Warren Hoye and Mrs. Paul McConnell, suitmakers' class; Mrs. Robert E. Barkley and Mrs. Ben Moresky, beginners sewing class.

Veterans Council Plans Announced

Meeting recently in the American Legion, the New Castle Veterans Council announced plans for various activities to be held in the immediate future.

Commander Edward A. DeCarbo presided. County Commissioner Harvey Bush spoke about future allocations for the veterans' activities given by the county.

Talks were heard from Mrs. Louise McConnell, executive secretary of the Red Cross and Ivor Davis, representative of the Civilian Veterans Sponsors Group. A discussion then took place to have various organizations offer contributions to defray expenses of gifts given to the servicemen prior to their departure to be considered as a civic movement.

Manning Weller of the American Legion spoke in behalf of Earl Moffett, chairman of the Memorial day services. Activities up to the present time were detailed. Arnold Barnsley is in charge of the music on this day and for the armed forces day also, which will occur on May 19.

Commander DeCarbo is in charge of the armed forces parade and announced his plans.

The meeting adjourned later until May 7, at 9:15 p.m., in the Legion Home.
